

Sugar Ration May End As World Supply Freed

Ontario Urges Provincial Talk On Meat Strike

By CANADIAN PRESS

A conference at Toronto Sept. 26 of eight provincial ministers of labor was suggested by Premier George Drew this afternoon as the Ontario government renewed its efforts to settle the strike of 12,000 packinghouse workers which has crippled meat production in Canada.

The Premier said he had wired the suggestion to Premiers of seven provinces so the ministers could "explore every possibility of reaching some agreement by which work can be resumed immediately in the packing plants across Canada."

The conference could by-pass a difficulty brought about by the Dominion government transferring its jurisdiction in labor disputes back to the provinces, although the Dominion could intervene if asked. The United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.) has refused to bargain for its wage demands except on a Dominion-wide basis. It was reported unofficially that the U.P.W.A. had refused to send its more than 12,000 members back to work until settlement of its demand for an 17-cents-an-hour increase to bring the average minimum hourly wage to 92 cents was reached. The strike closed plants of Swift Canadian, Burns and Company and Canada Packers.

John Lenglet, U.P.W.A. research director, said Monday night in an address over a Toronto radio station that conciliation on a provincial basis would delay settlement "for many months." There appeared to be no sign of an early end to the tie-up, he added.

U.S. Demands Yugoslavs Return 3 Yanks Captured Near Trieste

TRIESTE (AP) — United States army headquarters in Trieste today demanded the return of a U.S. officer and two men taken captive by Yugoslavs while on mounted patrol duty on the Trieste free territory frontier Monday and "forced across the border at gunpoint."

An official report issued by headquarters of the United States troops in Trieste said the missing men were patrolling near the sector where Yugoslavs last week tried to force their way into the free territory.

The army identified the trio as Lieut. William Van Atten, Pte. Earl G. Hendrick and Pte. Glen A. Myers.

Van Atten was caught in a Yugoslav ambush in July, 1946, on the road between Gorizia and Trieste, the army report said. His driver was killed and he and a soldier were wounded.

The official army account of Monday's occurrence said:

"While leading his patrol along the frontier, Van Atten sighted a Yugoslav patrol with whom he and his men had talked before and appeared to be on good terms. Van Atten and two enlisted men dismounted and approached the boundary on foot.

RIFLES POINTED

"They were seen talking with the Yugoslavs at a distance of 30 to 35 feet from the Yugoslavs. Then they were seen to go forward, while the Yugoslavs pointed rifles at them."

The Americans were "forced across the frontier at gunpoint" and "shortly after, one of the three men was reported to have been sent back for the three horses. The three captives subsequently were seen from an observation point entering the Yugoslav village of Goriano under armed guard."

"Trieste United States troops headquarters has made a special request to the Yugoslav mission in the free territory for the immediate return of the three men, but no reply has yet been made."

Price Boosted On All Kinds Of Breakfast Foods

Wholesalers reported today that all prices on dry breakfast foods, cereals and other commodities which contain flour have gone up as the result of the removal of the subsidy on flour by the federal government a week ago.

The price of macaroni also went up about 5 per cent, according to wholesalers who also predicted further rises on food products in the near future.

Retail price for a box of corn flakes is now 13 cents, a 3-cent increase, while cream of wheat rose 5 cents in stores, it was learned today. All other cereals have slightly increased in price.

Storekeepers said it was "only the beginning of a price-rising period." Some retail stores, however, had not yet increased their price on breakfast foods today, but were expected to raise the price by the end of this week.

New Poliomyelitis Theory Not Accepted

WINNIPEG (CP) — Winnipeg physicians and bacteriologists said today that a Vancouver doctor's theory that poliomyelitis came from improperly cooked eggs is "pure speculation."

"I should imagine that there are a lot of people with polio who never had a raw egg or raw chicken in their lives," Dr. Alfred Savage, professor of bacteriology and animal pathology at the University of Manitoba, said.

Truman Considers Voluntary Food Rationing For U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman is weighing recommendations today for voluntary food rationing in the United States and smaller grain shipments abroad as the most feasible approach to soaring domestic prices and threatened unrest overseas.

Any attempt to keep grain exports at the record levels of earlier months would require a return to rigid wartime controls and only Congress could restore them, Mr. Truman's food cabinet committee told the Chief Executive.

Food looms large in both the stop-gap and long-range pictures.

The State Department, stressing what it regards as the seriousness of the shortage abroad and the necessity of providing supplies to prevent friendly governments from falling prey to communism, has been pressing for an export goal larger than last year's.

Bomb Wrecks Auto In Buenos Aires Street

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The central section of Buenos Aires was shaken early today by the explosion of a powerful bomb which wrecked a parked automobile belonging to Juan Carlos Chianone, an official of the Construction Workers' Union. The blast shattered windows in the neighborhood and caused momentary panic, but there were no casualties.

French Ambassador Decorates Five In Impressive Ceremony Here Today

Standing on the quarterdeck of H.M.C.S. Ontario, five Canadians face Count Jean de Hauteclocque, French Ambassador to Canada, who decorated them for services to his country. With back to the camera, they are, left to right: Lt.-Cmdr. J. A. V. Thomson, Mrs. J. C. Jones, widow of Vice-Admiral Jones, C.B., R.C.N.; Maj.-Gen. R. F. L. Keller, C.B.E.; Admiral P. W. Nelles, C.B., R.C.N. (Retired), and Capt. J. C. Hibbard, D.S.C. and Bar, R.C.N.

Count Jean de Hauteclocque, French Ambassador to Canada, aboard H.M.C.S. Ontario this morning decorated five Canadians for their services to France.

First to be decorated was Admiral P. W. Nelles, R.C.N. (Retired), former chief of the Canadian naval staff, who was made a commander of the Legion of Honor. Admiral Nelles was the first man in R.C.N. history to hold the rank of full admiral.

Mrs. J. C. Jones, widow of Vice-Admiral Jones, C.B., R.C.N., received the decoration of the Legion of Honor for her husband. Next was Maj.-Gen. R. F. L. Keller, C.B.E., who led the Third Division into France. The Victoria officer was made an officer of the Legion of Honor and was also awarded the Croix de Guerre for his part in the liberation of France.

Capt. J. C. Hibbard, D.S.C. and Bar, R.C.N., commanding officer of the cruiser Ontario, was made a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor and received the Croix de Guerre with Palm.

The Croix de Guerre with Crimson Star was presented to Lieut.-Cmdr. J. A. V. Thomson, now a school teacher here, for the part he played during the invasion of Europe when he commanded his ship in several of the most important landings.

The French Ambassador arrived aboard the Ontario at 11:30 and was met by Capt. Hibbard who escorted the ambassador while he inspected the naval guard of honor aboard the ship. He next met Rear-Admiral E. R. Mainguy, O.B.E., R.C.N., Commanding Officer Pacific Coast, and then was introduced to the senior officer aboard ship. During the investiture, Count Hauteclocque observed the French custom of kissing the cheeks of the officers whom he had decorated.

Following the investiture, the five honored Canadians and a party of guests went below to the captain's cabin where a reception was held.

With the ambassador were his two daughters, Jacqueline and Ghislaine, his attaché, Charles de Pampelonne, and the French consul, Alexis Anfosy.

Among guests noticed at the reception were Mrs. Renee Archibald, Mrs. Sanderson Monjean, Mr. and Mrs. H. Parizeau, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. D'Estreite, and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. B. Ker.

When the ambassador left Ontario a 19-gun salute was fired in his honor.

Thief Gets $7

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver's "bedroom bandit" struck again early today when he stole $7 from Miss Lexa Fife in the Kitsilano district. She told police the man was about 35 years old.

U.S. Denounces Bulgaria For Executing Petkov

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today denounced Bulgaria's execution of Nikola Petkov, leader of the opposition to the Communist-supported Bulgarian government.

The State Department in a formal statement said that "in the court of world opinion" Bulgaria's Communist-dominated government "has shown itself wanting with respect to elementary principles of justice and the rights of man."

Petkov was hanged in Sofia's central prison early today on charges of plotting against the Bulgarian government.

Petkov's trial, the State Department said, "constituted but one of a series of measures undertaken by the Communist-dominated Fatherland Front government to remove from the Bulgarian scene all save a purely nominal opposition and to consolidate, despite its professions to the contrary, a totalitarian form of government."

MAY JOIN BRITAIN

The statement was read to reporters by a department official who gave no indication whether this government plans to join Great Britain in a formal diplomatic protest or to take other measures against the repressive tactics of the Bulgarian government.

In London, a British Foreign Office spokesman said Britain also plans a protest and that Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin will handle the matter personally.

LATEST

Held For Questioning

TORONTO (CP) — Provincial Police headquarters here said today a 52-year-old man was held by Montreal police for questioning in the murder of Betty Playford, 11-year-old Owen Sound girl whose raped and battered body was found outside Owen Sound Monday morning.

To Debate Korea

NEW YORK (AP) — Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky late today lost a vigorous battle to bar discussion of the Korean question and the Italian peace treaty in the United Nations Assembly.

Lawyer Robbed

VANCOUVER (CP) — Henry Castilow, prominent Vancouver barrister, reported to police today $500 had been stolen from a cash box in his office. Police believe the thief used celluloid to open a spring lock on the door.

Ask Meatless Days

VANCOUVER (CP) — A return to meatless Tuesdays and Fridays to meet the present supply shortage due to the packinghouse workers' strike was advocated today by the meat dealers' executive of the Retail Merchants' Association here. A resolution adopted urged that the two days be made fish and poultry days throughout British Columbia.

U.S. People Urged To Eat More Fish

WASHINGTON (AP) — With meat and egg prices soaring, Secretary of the Interior Krug suggested today eating more fish.

He said fish production is now at its peak for the year and that prices are about the same as last year, with some popular items lower. He added in a statement:

"Fish and other seafood are among our most nutritionally valuable foods. Since this is so, housewives, hotels, restaurants and other food-dispensing institutions would do well to look to the fishing industry for an increasing part of their protein food needs."

Need Virtually Gone By U.S. Act Ottawa Reports

OTTAWA (CP)—Possibilities of an early removal of sugar rationing—perhaps within the next month—were strengthened today by a Washington announcement of the lifting of all international sugar controls.

There was no official comment here, but it was conceded the removal of the international allocation, prompted by improved world supplies, had virtually swept away any necessity for retention of the Canadian ration, which works out at 44 pounds annually for each consumer.

Only two weeks ago it had been predicted the ration would disappear before the year-end and now, based on the Washington action, the expectation was that it might go within a month.

It was pointed out here that Britain, which buys Canada's supplies, recently purchased the entire Dominion output for 1947, and this, coupled with purchases in the British West Indies and other areas, should guarantee a firm supply.

At its present rate, the ration is sufficiently close to prewar domestic consumption to make abolition feasible.

It had been thought possible the ration might have been lifted in the recent Prices Board decontrol order, but it was pointed out this order came in the midst of the sugar-buying season and that steps to eliminate the ration then would have been premature.

While the ration is expected to go, there is no likelihood of the removal of the price ceiling on sugar as the purchase of this commodity is in the hands of a government agency—the Canadian Sugar Stabilization Corp. Ltd. The policy has been to retain ceilings where the purchase of imports is handled by the government.

The Washington announcement said the International Emergency Food Council had lifted its controls because of the record Cuban crop this year and good prospects for 1948 output.

Soviet Ignores Appeals For Co-operation In U.N.

NEW YORK (CP) — An unrepentant Andrei Vishinsky plunged back to the attack on the United States in the U.N. General Assembly today an hour after Secretary General Trygve Lie had appealed to the big powers to submerge their differences and turn to co-operation for peace.

Soon after the Assembly had taken up the draft agenda submitted by the steering committee the Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister took advantage of his second opportunity to address the Assembly.

He chose the items of Korea and the Italian peace treaty, both on the draft agenda, to launch his fresh attack on the United States. He charged the United States had violated the charter by supporting the agenda proposal for revising the Italian peace treaty and declared State Secretary Marshall had given an "incorrect" picture of the Soviet-American deadlock on Korean independence.

Both items should be removed, from the agenda, Vishinsky argued, and he asked permission to give a lengthy general statement on Soviet general policy.

President Oswaldo Aranha ruled Vishinsky must confine his remarks to the items of the agenda as they were called.

AUSTIN REPLIES

Warren R. Austin of the United States replied by citing Article 1 of the U.N. charter which calls for the development of friendly relations among nations.

"Let's keep our sights lifted to those high points," he said. Referring to Vishinsky's charge that the United States was responsible for the stalemate over Korea, Austin said: "It's not who's right—but what's right."

"The General Assembly," Austin declared, "must show its capacity to do things and not expose itself as a perfectly futile organization."

Before Vishinsky entered the debate the Assembly had approved the steering committee's recommendation for creation of a special committee on Palestine on which every member country will be represented.

Trygve Lie closed the week-long presentation of policy statements by delegation leaders with a carefully-prepared appeal to disputing members to reconcile their differences.

MEANING IS CLEAR

In his address to the General Assembly, Lie made no direct reference to State Secretary Marshall of the United States or Andrei Vishinsky, Russia's deputy foreign minister, who scored the policies of Russia and the United States respectively in earlier Assembly speeches. But it was clear his appeal was aimed at them.

"The indispensable condition for peace is that nations with different social systems and different interests shall strive to live and to work together, side by side, in peace," Lie told the delegates of 55 countries at the close of the Assembly's week-long general debate phase.

"This must find expression in political negotiations which show a willingness to compromise. Without such a will, without co-operation and agreement, let me emphasize that no mechanism for the maintenance of international peace and security, however perfect, can be effective."

Lie said the big power differences "hamper the activities of the United Nations, and its ability to perform the duties laid down in the charter."

"It is impossible and intolerable," Lie continued, "to think that these differences should ever be allowed to lead to war. I do not believe there is any nation or any government in the world that does not want to prevent another war."

Abbott Discusses Financial Problems With Attlee, Aides

LONDON (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott of Canada, just back from talks with Eire government representatives, is scheduled to meet Prime Minister Attlee today for further review of financial questions.

Thursday, Abbott will meet Sir Stafford Cripps, president of the Board of Trade and leading government authority on the export drive—top priority in British planning to overcome the dollar shortage crisis.

Abbott said all his conversations had been on an informal basis and that their main purpose was to exchange information rather than to seek decisions.

The minister has given firsthand explanation of Canada's own financial problems and has heard similar views from Hugh Dalton, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and other British financial authorities.

In Eire he talked at length with James Aiken, Minister of Finance, and said that this, like other conversations, was "most helpful."

Abbott will leave Friday for Paris to begin a continental tour which will include visits to displaced persons camps where settlers for Canada are being selected.

Bulgar Peasant Leader Petkov Dies On Sofia Prison Gallows

SOPIA (AP)—Nikola Petkov, peasant leader and foe of the Communist Party, was hanged at 12.15 a.m. today in Sofia's central prison on charges of plotting against Bulgaria's Communist-controlled government.

Petkov's appeal to the supreme court from the death penalty, imposed Aug. 16, was rejected Thursday. The 54-year-old leader of the opposition Agrarian Party denied the government's charge that he had plotted a coup d'état by armed force.

Evidently resigned to death, death, Petkov, in his prison cell, described his case simply as a prolongation of "what has already happened in Hungary," where the Communists throttled the opposition after charging the existence of a plot against the government.

U.S.-BRITISH PROTEST

The execution was carried out despite protests from both the United States and Britain, which had termed Petkov's conviction a miscarriage of justice.

The United States sought a review of the Petkov case by the Allied Control Commission in Bulgaria, composed of representatives of the United States, Russia and Britain. Russia contended, however, that such action would constitute intervention in Bulgaria's internal affairs.

The United States subsequently—with British backing—appealed directly to Moscow to take a hand in reviewing the case, but without results.

Petkov had been under arrest since June 6, when he was formally charged with plotting to overthrow the government and establish a new regime with himself at its head. He firmly denied the charges at his trial.

INVOLVED IN 1938

Nikola Dimitrov Petkov, 54, was deep in the political turmoil of Bulgaria long before the Second World War. As leader of the Agrarian Party he was involved in 1938 in what the government called a campaign against King Boris III, and in November of that year he and six of his Agrarian members were expelled from Parliament. Petkov, as the leader of this group, was accused of directing the distribution of pamphlets attacking the king. Petkov vainly contended his group supported the monarch but simply demanded that the king limit his powers, as specified by the constitution.

During the war he was back in the government, however, as a minister without portfolio, and he was one of the ministers who signed Bulgaria's armistice with the Allies late in 1944.

His troubles with the Communist Party began in earnest in September, 1945, when he withdrew from the fatherland front coalition government because of its domination by the Communists.

Sea Lions And Seals Invading Brentwood Bay

Mill Bay-Brentwood fishermen believe the sea monster which residents here claimed to have seen recently here was either a sea-lion or one of killer whales which have been invading the bay from time to time.

Large numbers of seals and sea-lions are now in the bay and have been seen by fishermen, according to Harry Gilbert of Brentwood. Some weeks ago a school of killer whales invaded the bay.

According to a report a man and his wife recently saw a huge monster while they were rowing to their residence across the bay opposite the Queen Alexandra Solarium. Fishermen, however, believe what they saw was a large sea-lion or a killer whale.

Argentina Needs Million Cattle

BRANTFORD, Ont. (CP)—Argentina requires at least 1,000,000 head of cattle to provide for a consumption comparable to that in Canada and the United States, C. Alberto Lozano of Buenos Aires believes.

The editor of Hocando Argentina, monthly cattle magazine, said in an interview there Monday he believed Canadian herds could contribute to the expansion of herds in his country.

450 Weekly Paper Publishers Start Arriving Here For 3-Day Convention

Vanguard of more than 450 weekly newspaper publishers from cities and towns throughout Canada arrived here today for the annual convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers' Association which will be held at the Empress Hotel for three days starting Wednesday.

The convention will also attract many other representatives of companies serving the newspapers. Some of the publishers are accompanied by their wives. Last year the convention was held in Halifax.

The convention will formally start at 8.30 Wednesday morning with the registration of delegates. At 9.30 addresses of welcome will be given by R. P. MacLean, publisher of the Kelowna Courier, president of the B.C. division of the association, and by Walter Ashfield, Grenfell, Sask., president of the national association.

During the morning session committees will be appointed and annual reports read. Wednesday noon the delegates will be guests of the City of Victoria at a civic luncheon at which Mayor Percy George will speak.

TROPHY WINNERS

During the afternoon, while the ladies will be taken on a sightseeing trip to Butchart's Gardens, delegates will resume the business sessions. Highlight of the afternoon will be the announcement of the trophy winners in contests for the best weekly newspapers in the nation.

Last year British Columbia weeklies took 65 per cent of the awards, which are made in various circulation categories. In all, about three dozen awards being made.

To select the best weeklies of the Dominion, each weekly is asked to submit four editions for dates selected by the association after publication. Service of the newspapers to the community is basis for judging by judges appointed from outside the association and unknown to the competitors.

Announcement of job printing competition winners will also be made at the Wednesday afternoon session. Prizes are given for quality and originality in job printing by the weeklies.

A talk on engraving by Ronald Jackson, representative of a Vancouver engraving company, will follow.

GOVERNMENT DINNER

The B.C. government will tender a reception and dinner Wednesday night at which Premier John Hart will be chairman and Lands and Forest Minister E. T. Kenney, who is also acting minister of labor, will give an address at the dinner.

A complimentary breakfast will be tendered by the Canadian Bankers' Association Thursday morning and following this the publishers will engage in an open discussion.

Mr. Rowland is immediate past president of the B.C. section of the association.

casting Corporation will be made from the Empress Hotel Thursday noon before the publishers. For the occasion a staff of a dozen from Vancouver, including Tom Leech, farm commentator, and members of the staff of the Carson family, will come here.

At a luncheon following the broadcast Senator Gray Turgeon of B.C. will be speaker.

Thursday afternoon starting at 2 the publishers will go to the office of the King's Printer here to see the machines of the modern printing plant of the provincial government in operation.

In the evening a dinner will be tendered by the T. Eaton Company at which R. J. Fry will speak. Mr. Fry's topic will be "The Place of the Weekly Press in the Life of the Nation."

Election of officers for the ensuing year will be held Friday morning at 9.30 and will be followed by a meeting of the new board of directors at 10.30.

At noon Friday the publishers will be guests of the B.C. division of the association at a luncheon to be presided over by Mr. MacLean. N. F. Pullen of the B.C. Telephone Co. will give an address.

TO VISIT ESQUIMALT

Speaker at this dinner will be Professor F. H. Soward, director of the University of B.C.

The convention will wind up Friday night with a dance at the Crystal Garden.

Employment In Canada At Peak; 33,000 More Jobs Than Seekers

OTTAWA (CP)—The Labor Department reported today Canada now is experiencing her most extensive labor shortage since the end of the war, with unemployment down to less than 2 per cent of the civilian labor force and unfilled jobs outnumbering applicants for work by 33,000.

And, the department said in its monthly report on the manpower picture, "by the beginning of October the general scarcity of labor will likely be even more acute."

With seasonal expansion of Canadian industry cutting into the labor supply, there were 84,000 unfilled applicants registered with the National Employment Service across Canada at Sept. 11, a decline of 9,000 in the last month and 60,000 less than the total of a year ago.

STUDENTS LEAVE GAP

At the same time unfilled vacancies totaled 117,000, an upswing of 22,000 since Aug. 14. The department said students returning to school and university after temporary summer employment had "left quite a gap, especially in the ranks of unskilled workers."

Of the unfilled applicants 58,000 were male and 26,000 female, compared with 65,000 and 28,000 respectively at Aug. 14. Of the total unfilled vacancies, 75,000 were for men and 42,000 for women.

The department noted that the current dispute in the meat-packing industry was the first major strike this year with Dominion-wide repercussions—in contrast with the stormy situation of 1946—and said uninterrupted production of goods during the last few months, due to smoother flow of material and lack of strikes, had led to steady growth in the need for workers.

The farm labor situation, which the department termed "always a problem at this time of year" is well in hand. The inter-regional movement of harvesters progressed smoothly with more than 2,000 workers being moved to the prairies since the middle of August. The annual transfer of farm workers to the United States now is beginning in eastern areas.

PRAIRIES AND B.C.

The prairie region had 12,000 unfilled applicants and 18,000 unfilled jobs at Sept. 11. Employment conditions on the prairies generally were buoyant, but there appeared to be a serious shortage of harvest workers developing although the situation is again under control. Mining companies still were calling for skilled men and the logging industry was absorbing workers recently brought from Europe. Construction was being held up by scarcity of skilled workers and limited supplies.

The Pacific region reported 13,000 unfilled jobseekers and 7,000 unfilled vacancies with primary industries such as agriculture, logging and mining at peak activity. Employment was available for all workers physically fit and willing to leave metropolitan areas and wages in the logging industry now were at their highest peak in B.C. Major expansion in the mining industry was being held back by lack of workers, but the farm labor situation was "well in hand."

Weather

Weather today and tomorrow, valid until midnight Sept. 24:

Pressures are moderately high over B.C. this morning. The air is dry and the combined effect is clear skies and temperatures 10 to 15 degrees above normal for late September. Weather conditions are static and no change is anticipated for today and Wednesday.

Vancouver and vicinity. Lower Fraser Valley, Georgia Strait, Victoria and vicinity and west coast Vancouver Island — Clear warm today and Wednesday. Fog patches in low lying areas during the mornings. Light winds.

Walkout Threatens To Tie Up B.C. Salmon Fishing Industry

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia's salmon industry may join strike-bound enterprises, it was learned here as approximately 3,000 seine and gill-net fishermen awaited the results of latest demands to cannery operators.

While representatives of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union (T.L.C.) Monday gave a flat "no" to an offer of 6.9 cents a pound for heavily-running chum salmon, William Rigby, union chief, said a strike vote would be taken this coming weekend if demands of better than 8 cents a pound were not met.

A contract drawn up late in June between the union and B.C. canners, while setting the prices of spring salmon, left an open price on chum, which now have been running for a week.

The market price asked by the union was not revealed, but Rigby said "it was more than 8 cents a pound." Eight cents was the price agreed on generally in the open contract negotiated in the spring.

If the union decides on a walk-out during the coming weekend, more than 1,000 gill-net boats will be affected, while 150 larger seine boats will be drawn from the fishing grounds.

Meat-hungry housewives, who have been creating a run in local fish stores in response to Alderman Cornett's suggestion of a two-day fish week, were wondering whether they would have to turn vegetarian altogether.

Meanwhile, Rigby asserted that "changed conditions" and the "highly mounting cost of living forced his union to request more than the 8-cent June verbal agreement.

"We all are hopeful that the situation improves," he declared. "However, if operators don't come through with our demands, a general strike vote will be taken."

Representatives of the Salmon Cannery Operators' Committee, currently negotiating with the F.A.W.U., announced another meeting would be held Wednesday to discuss further the union demands.

The present contract is effective throughout the 1947 salmon season.

Seals behave very much like people and in some cases make better parents than human beings when it comes to looking after their youngsters.

This is the opinion of a Victoria fisherman who has a healthy respect for seals ever since he tried to capture a young one in Brentwood to train as a pet.

While on a fishing trip, the fisherman was tempted to gaff a young seal which was swimming alongside his boat. All was going well, until the mother heard the cry of her pup, and then things began to happen. The mother was so angry that she almost climbed into the boat, poked its nose into the fisherman's face, and he decided that discretion was the better part of valor and let the young seal go.

Coercion Charged

VANCOUVER (CP)—Claims that oil companies coerced service station operators into signing a petition in opposition to the proposed early closing by-law for Vancouver stations were aired at a meeting of the city licensing committee here Monday night.

The committee was told that operators had been told to "sign or else"; that if the by-law passed the trade would go through a period of compulsion in which operators would be compelled to stay open 24 hours a day.

Officials of major oil companies branded the claims as "preposterous." Service station operators are tenants and are free to do what they think best, oil company managers said.

Undercooked Eggs Cause Polio, Vancouver Physician Suggests

VANCOUVER (CP)—Dr. W. D. Patton, prominent Vancouver physician, today advanced a radically new method for the control and prevention of poliomyelitis—the proper cooking of eggs.

The novel suggestion is the result of 16 years painstaking research into the dread disease that has baffled top medical scientists throughout the world.

Dr. Patton said his lengthy investigations had convinced him infantile paralysis was similar to a disease known as fowl paralysis (neurolymphomatosis galinarum) and that polio was contracted by human beings through eating eggs infected by the disease.

However, he emphasized he was not implying that all eggs were infected and stressed there was no danger from eggs sufficiently cooked. Eggs were a valuable food and their use should not be discouraged.

The new theory would confirm the general belief of the medical profession that polio is not infectious. If Dr. Patton's solution to the disease that has already taken eight lives in British Columbia this year is correct, polio is not infectious but is food-borne and may easily be controlled or entirely prevented.

Dr. Patton said poliomyelitis cases had been treated in public wards in England for years without any cross-infection.

OWNERS OF POULTRY

Many cases of polio investigated by the doctor occurred in families which owned small flocks of chickens. Children stricken had been eating lightly cooked eggs and examination of the chickens showed fowl paralysis was prevalent in the flock.

Other factors backing his theory, he said, was that:

Polio often developed in typhoid patients—egg-nog is largely used as a food in the treatment of typhoid.

Epidemics of polio started about the time mass-incubation of chickens began. Fowl paralysis also greatly increased during the same period.

SASKATCHEWAN OPINION

REGINA (CP)—An official of the Saskatchewan Health Department said today that because the way in which poliomyelitis spreads was not known, any one of a number of agents might be a source.

He was commenting on a Vancouver dispatch in which Dr. W. D. Patton advanced the proper cooking of eggs as a new method of controlling and preventing poliomyelitis.

The official said he did not think the relationship of fowl paralysis and the cooking of eggs to poliomyelitis "held water" in the current outbreak in Canada.

The poliomyelitis virus was known and had been isolated. Even drinking water had been suspected of being a carrying agent. The relatively high proportion of mild cases in the current outbreak indicated a relatively high degree of immunity to the disease among the general public.

The disease in fact behaved like a "lack of immunity." There were cases in which, despite close contact, only one member of a family had been stricken.

Run On Shoes

TORONTO (CP)—A city-wide rush on shoe stores following the lifting of price ceilings and forecasts that shoe prices would increase 21 per cent has caused retailers here to limit sales to two pairs to a customer and in some cases to locking their doors.

Dealers said the future rise in prices would not be entirely due to the removal of price ceilings but was also affected by wage increases in the shoe manufacturing industry in Quebec where most of the shoes sold in Ontario are produced.

Conjecture Shrouds Future Of 935 Staff In Airbase Transfer

MONTREAL (CP)—When the big North American base of the British Overseas Airways Corporation is transferred to the United Kingdom, a staff of 935 will be affected, but conjecture shrouds disposition of the personnel.

At administrative offices at the Dorval airport today, company officials said little thought had been given to a shift. It was too far in the future.

A statement last Friday from New York headquarters of the Atlantic division said no date had been set for the transfer and the extent to which facilities and personnel would be retained in Montreal was not known.

In any event, the move will not be made until an order for several Boeing Stratocruisers has been filled, probably not likely until some time in 1948. The company's Constellation ships, now used on passenger runs, will not be based overseas until the Boeings have been delivered.

Of the present 935 total personnel, about 300 originally came from overseas, including 180 air crew and 120 others in various departments.

At least some of the administrative staff will remain here when the base is moved and perhaps half the air crew for turn-around flights.

Amount of payrolls and salaries was not divulged, but personnel brought here from overseas are given certain living allowances. The London Daily Express last Friday, reporting the transfer would be made to Filton, near Bristol, said hundreds of thousands of dollars would be saved, especially in living allowances.

The company operates 10 ships in the United Kingdom service, five Liberators, which carry only mail and freight, and five huge Constellations on the passenger runs.

Inquiry Finds Indian Drowned Accidentally

PORT ALBERNI — Death by accidental drowning is the opinion of Dr. C. Pitts, who conducted an inquiry into the death of Jackson Jack, Bamfield Indian, found dead Thursday on tidal land beside his grounded fishing boat.

Police believe Jack fell overboard in a few feet of water after the boat grounded near Bamfield in the dark. The body and boat were found at low tide by Rochester Peters.

Sweeps Reduces Accidents At Mill

PORT ALBERNI—Since establishment of safety sweeps at Franklin River camps of Bloedel, Stewart and Welch Ltd., accidents have been reduced at Camp A by 70 per cent and at Camp B by 50 per cent, company officials report.

Money prizes totaling $190 out of a possible $230 were won in August by the men of the camps. Each compensable accident reduces the money to be drawn for at the end of the month.

The sweeps were started as an experiment about four months ago.

Registration Heavy At Cowichan School

LAKE COWICHAN—Registration at Lake Cowichan High School this year is 101 pupils while the elementary school total is 307.

Orchestra and choir are organizing, and will provide first-class entertainment this fall. The new Home Economics Building will open this week. New sewing machines for this section have just arrived. Every available part of the High School is being used and it is proposed to build another school in the near future and this will go before the ratepayers shortly.

There are 10 teachers at the High School, but four of these take care of the grade classes. The age limit had to be raised in grade one because of lack of space. Optional and elective studies provided this year at the High School are: Home economics, typing, junior business, business remedial English, French and geography.

Suicide Confirmed

ALBERNI—Suspected suicide death of H. Lamport, 17, who was found Friday shot through the head in a bunkhouse on the McMillan Farms near Alberni, has been confirmed in an inquiry by Dr. C. Pitts.

Investigating Alberni police learned from L. McKinnon, the youth's employer, that Lamport entered the bunkhouse at 6 a.m. and was found dead by Mr. McKinnon at 8 a.m. A suicide note and a 44-0 rifle were found near the body.

ALBERNI — A wild silver fox was shot over the week-end near Campbell River by W. McMurtrie, reports E. Jensen, member of the hunting party from Alberni which also included H. McMurtrie and Mr. Jensen's son, Earl.

Thought by local hunters to be not more than the second silver fox shot on the island, the animal measured nearly five feet from nose to tip of tail. Since silver foxes are not native to the island, Mr. Jensen ventures the opinion this one escaped from a fox farm.

Several blue grouse were found inside the animal, says Mr. Jensen.

'Mystery Woman,' Slain, Bride Of 19

BENTON HARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Sheriff Erwin H. Kubath said Monday that the "mystery woman" whose body was found here last week had been identified as Mrs. Catharine Tina Jacobs of Chicago, 19-year-old bride of two weeks.

The identification, made by the girl's mother, came after the sheriff had accused a Chicago newspaper of hiding Mrs. Jacobs' husband in order to keep an exclusive story.

The Chicago Herald-American in its late edition Sunday night said Marshall P. Jacobs, 21-year-old bartender, had identified the woman as his wife.

Saskatchewan May Revise Pension Plan

REGINA (CP)—If the Dominion government "continues to delay or refuses to implement its 1945 proposals," further review and consideration of added provincial assistance to old age pensioners over and above the current payment of $30 a month plus full health services will be necessary, Welfare Minister O. W. Valleau of Saskatchewan said Monday.

He said the relaxation of federal old age pension requirements will make a larger number of Saskatchewan residents eligible for pension and result in about 1,500 pensioners receiving more financial assistance.

Must Prevent War

BOSTON (AP)—Henry A. Wallace asserted Monday that the United States even with its wealth and atom bombs "will never win a third world war. The war that is being bred for us must be stopped," he told the annual convention of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America (C.I.O.).

First Appearance Of Princess In State Planned For October

LONDON (Reuter)—Princess Elizabeth will make her first official appearance at the state opening of parliament when the King and Queen perform the ceremony during the last week of October, it was learned authoritatively today.

It is only now that she is of age that the heiress presumptive has a place in the official proceedings.

Like the Queen, she will have no active duties in the ceremony, but will sit on a chair beside the thrones of her Royal parents while the King reads the Speech from the Throne that will outline the government's program for the ensuing session of parliament.

The speech is expected to make complimentary reference to the new independent Dominions of India and Pakistan, and to announce legislation that will give sovereign independence to Burma. It will contain no major nationalization measures.

IN LORD'S CHAMBER

The opening of parliament takes place in the House of Lords, which, since the original House of Commons was bombed during the war, has been functioning as the lower chamber.

Last time the heir to the throne appeared with his Royal parents was when King Edward VIII, then Prince of Wales, attended officially the late King George V and Queen Mary.

Princess Elizabeth's fiancé, Lieut. Philip Mountbatten, can have no place in the proceedings, but he may attend as a spectator. Sooner or later, before the royal wedding Nov. 20, Mountbatten is likely to be created a duke.

If this happens before the opening of parliament, he will be sworn in as a peer and could then attend the opening of parliament as a member of the Upper House.

Creative Banking

PLAYED A PART

WHEN A MAN accepts his pay does he ever stop to wonder how it got into his hand... who hired the accountants, who sells the products, who ordered the machinery, who picked out the site and built the factory, who put up the original money?

Creative Banking probably had a share in making that weekly pay a practical reality in his hand. Creative Banking plus men of ability with the vision and the courage to borrow money and build it into factories or mines, or buildings.

At The Bank of Nova Scotia we're proud of our share in the development of industry in Canada, proud to have been associated with the men who have made those jobs, those wages and salaries so commonplace they're taken for granted.

Creative Banking helps create more work and better living for Canadians.

HECTOR McNEIL REPLIES

IF THE GENERAL DEBATE OF THE second session of the Assembly of the United Nations has not taken the world much farther along the road toward an enduring peace, it has provided Russia's Deputy Foreign Minister Vishinsky with an excellent opportunity to reaffirm his country's disinclination to contribute anything to practical collaboration with the rest of the member states unless it conforms precisely to the Moscow pattern. Nor was it surprising that two or three of the Soviet Union's satellites echoed the "master's voice," in a repetition of the familiar charge that Great Britain and the United States are a brace of warlike nations preparing to pounce on poor, harmless and peaceful Russia as soon as it suits them.

Nothing Washington's Secretary of State Marshall said the other day, nothing any of the representatives of other free and law-abiding states have said, has mollified the men of the Kremlin. It is unfortunate for the world, especially so for the Soviet Union, that the "Select 14" of the Politburo have in the palms of their hands the destiny of 193,000,000 people whose hatred of war and all that goes with it is as deep-rooted and as bitter as that of every Canadian.

As Mr. Trygve Lie, Secretary General of the United Nations, prepares to close the general debate of the Assembly at Flushing Meadows, fresh in his mind will be the candid and impressive phrases with which Britain's Minister of State, Hector McNeill, tore to shreds the fantastic Vishinsky thesis at yesterday afternoon's session. This 37-year-old Scot was careful to choose, though not to mince, words that would embody both the retort direct and the promise implicit. He threw back the Russian delegate's libels with a vigor and conviction there was no mistaking; he rose to full stature when he virtually defied the Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister to repeat his disgusting reference to Mr. Churchill.

OPPOSITION SILENCED

THE LEADER OF THE AGRARIAN Union, the opposition party in Bulgaria, early this morning suffered the fate of those who oppose too persistently the Communist-dominated governments of the satellite nations. He was hanged. Both Britain and the United States had made representations to save the life of Nikola Petkov, on the grounds that his conviction on a charge of plotting to overthrow the government was a miscarriage of justice. Later, the United States, backed by Britain, had appealed directly to Russia, the third power in the Allied Control Commission, to review the case. Russia refused, saying this would constitute intervention in Bulgaria's internal affairs.

The man who campaigned in 1938 for limitations on the power of King Boris III as specified in the constitution, and who withdrew from the coalition government in 1945 because it was dominated by Communists, has thus gone the way of those who fight too hard for freedom under a totalitarian form of government. Petkov was under no illusions as to why he was being executed. Shortly before his death he said his case was merely a continuation of "what has already happened in Hungary," where Premier Nagy was forced into exile following Communist charges that he had plotted to overthrow his own coalition government.

TIE-AND-TRouser PROPAGANDA

MOSCOW'S WEEKLY LITERARY Gazette has grabbed its bell, book, and candle to weight the imprecations it has culled down upon the head of the President of the United States. Regimented readers of its regimented columns have a new glimpse of Mr. Truman. The journal in question describes him as "a person who loves bow ties, who wears his pants shorter by two inches than accepted standards, and who is otherwise unnotable." Just fancy that.

We were not aware that the incumbent at the White House had a particular penchant for bow ties; the last time we saw him at a press conference he was wearing a gaily-colored cravat that matched his infectious smile. He would doubtless send one of a similar pattern to lugubrious Mr. Gromyko if he felt it might impart some semblance of a mirthful outlook to the Soviet delegate to the Security Council.

What the Weekly Literary Gazette has revealed, however, is a very patent reason why Mr. Churchill never really became popular with the controlled press of Moscow. It must be a long, long time since Britain's wartime leader wore any other than a bow tie. And in all the recent full-length pictures we have seen of the President and ex-Prime Minister we have detected no sign of a trouser-leg rising toward the knee—or even mid-shin.

A FINE PUBLIC SERVANT

ALTHOUGH THE EXACTING NATURE of his work was known to but a relatively few intimates, the important positions the late Alfred Norman Baker held and the excellent manner in which he discharged his manifold duties were widely appreciated by the people of British Columbia. His was the task of supervising the civil service of this province, of seeing that the most competent individual was chosen for the particular job that had to be done in the conduct of the government's business. And his was the responsibility, as chairman of the Civil Service Commission, of directing the internal machinery of administration for the benefit of the province in which he had made his home and to which he contributed the fullest measure of his capabilities and energies.

Despite indifferent health, Mr. Baker had applied himself wholeheartedly to the labors which his offices imposed upon him. Few could know the immense amount of detail to which he gave his personal attention, not only as chairman of the commission, but as superannuation commissioner and, for the last year, as deputy provincial secretary. That the standard of British Columbia's civil service is high is, in no small degree, a tribute to the competency with which he fulfilled his obligations.

A familiar figure and more familiar name to the thousands on the payroll of the provincial government, Mr. Baker had not been widely known to the general public. He had not sought the limelight, preferring, rather, to concentrate his abilities on the vital task at hand, the smooth functioning of departments under his jurisdiction. When death ended his busy career last Saturday, British Columbia lost a gifted and conscientious public servant.

IS THIS SCIENTIFIC?

IN THE OPINION OF DR. ROSARIO Fontaine, provincial medico-legal expert of Quebec, sex education for youth serves "only the interests of sexual vice . . . by focussing the attention of children on a subject which, as far as I'm concerned, should be left in the background of their current mind." The doctor, furthermore, has not the slightest confidence in sexual education as a means of restoring good morals among youth.

This point of view is set forth in a newspaper condensation of the medico-legal expert's article in the Police Constable's Review, the organ of the Canadian Brotherhood of Policemen. What the supporting arguments may be, we do not know. On the basis of the condensation, however, his case seems to rest on the belief that what youth does not know will not hurt them. We submit that his contention on the moral issue is open to debate. And we are moved to ask the doctor, as a medical man, if ignorance is not a serious obstacle in the fight against venereal disease—a campaign which in the west at least has emphasized the desirability of disseminating knowledge on this subject. We have in mind also the great advances that were made in the attack upon tuberculosis after the blanket of ignorance and fear was lifted.

And we are inclined to inquire from the Quebec official if he thinks it unnecessary to offer scientific and straightforward information to adolescents on a matter which, in an age of false modesty, was relegated to the background of their minds for discussion only in furtive whispers.

FLIGHT INTO THE FUTURE

A NEW HORIZON HAS BEEN OPENED with the trans-Atlantic flight of a four-engined United States Air Force plane which made the trip from Newfoundland to England without a finger being laid on its controls. The journey, including takeoff and landing, was performed entirely by means of automatic mechanism. Similar flights on a test basis have been successful before, but none on such a scale or with such complete lack of human intervention. The plane, with nine crew members and five passengers aboard, was taxied to the strip at Stephenville, Nfld., a button was pushed, and the aircraft was on its own until it was rolled into the hangar at Brize Norton airport, 2,400 miles away.

The plane "followed its nose"—a radio direction-finder—to a ship out in the Atlantic. There it automatically switched to another ship farther east, and from there to the port in England. The implications of the achievement—the promise of foolproof landings in heavy weather, undeviating flight through the worst of storms, and long-range flying techniques—are far-reaching when considered in relation to peacetime flying. But they open up still vaster possibilities in terms of the so-called "push-button war." The world has become just a little more shrunken, and our need for international peace has become just a little more acute.

THE COLD WAR

WE MAY NOW examine a question which must be answered before the policy, which I contend is preferable to the Truman doctrine, can be accepted with conviction. I have argued that the United States should concentrate her effort on the evacuation of Europe by the Red Army. What about the Communist parties which are also the instruments of Soviet power? If the Red Army withdrew behind the frontiers of the Soviet Union, the Communist parties would remain—to put it bluntly, as a Soviet fifth column. They will be assisted, we may take it, by Soviet agents and by Soviet funds and Soviet contraband weapons—and by Soviet propaganda and by Soviet diplomacy.

That is true. There will still be the problem of Communism. Nevertheless, the heart of the American problem is, I contend, the presence of the Red Army in Europe. The Communist Party in any country is the fifth column. It is, however, only a fifth column. There are the other four columns, and they are the Red Army.

THE POLICY WHICH I suggest is designed to separate the first four columns from the fifth, to divide the Red Army from the Red International. For the Soviet power is most formidable where they are able to work together, that is to say, where the Communist Party has the support and protection of the Red Army.

There are, as I write, no Communist states except within the zone of Russian military occupation. Outside the military boundary of the Soviet orbit those countries are most threatened with a Communist seizure of power into which the Red Army could most easily march. Within the Soviet zone it would be interesting to see what would happen if the occupying force inside those countries or surrounding them were withdrawn. For it is one thing to resist a local dictatorship and quite another to resist the strongest land power on earth.

IT IS CONCEIVABLE, though it has not yet happened, that a Communist party might seize the authority of government though there was no Red Army to support it and protect it. But even if this happened the position of the Communist party would be incomparably less secure than if the Red Army were present to overawe the police and to suppress the resistance of the national army and of the national forces. In an unoccupied country the Communist fifth column would have to fight and win a civil war before its authority was established. In an occupied country the Red Army can prevent a civil war and drive the resistance underground and reduce it to a guerrilla action. I do not think there is any doubt, therefore, that the evacuation of Europe by the Red Army would alter the situation decisively.

THE NEXT QUESTION is whether the objective of obtaining the withdrawal of the Red Army is attainable. A certain answer to this question is, of course, impossible. We can only calculate the probabilities, and we can say that the objective I am contending for is concrete, substantial, intelligible to every one, and a normal and universally accepted objective at the conclusion and settlement of a war.

We may begin, moreover, by noting that in all American disagreements with the Soviet government the Kremlin has always agreed that the purpose of these tedious negotiations is in the end to conclude treaties of peace with all the enemy states. Now a treaty of peace may call for the annexation of territory, it may call for a period of supervision and control until the enemy state has fulfilled certain demands and has met certain conditions. But if it is a treaty of peace, it must provide for an end to military occupation. The treaties which have been signed with Italy and with the satellite states are definite on this point.

IF AND WHEN treaties of peace are agreed to for Germany and Austria, they will have to contain definite stipulations for the withdrawal of the armies of occupation. In some form or other, at some time or other, no matter what supervision and control are imposed upon what guarantees are exacted from Germany, and exchanged among the Allies, these treaties of peace will fix a time when the Red Army, and of course the British, the French and the American armies also, can no longer, as a matter of legal right, remain in central and eastern Europe.

Therefore, in making the withdrawal of the armies the objective of her policy, the United States is seeking to accomplish a result which the Soviet government by the very act of negotiating peace treaties has agreed to in principle.

THIS IS SOMETHING on which to work. For in our agreements, which are deep and stubborn, there is a common commitment which no one has challenged. If there is agreement on the terms of the German and Austrian treaties, the withdrawal of the armies will follow. This is a wholly different kind of commitment from those which were made at Yalta and at Potsdam, and were then violated later. As to what is democracy and what is free election and the like, it is possible to differ honestly and to differ dishonestly.

But an agreement to evacuate an army must either be carried out or violated. It is not a question for the dialecticians, the ideologists, the sophists and the casuists. It is not a matter which can be hidden behind an iron curtain. It is a matter of plain and quite obvious fact.

For Better Homes, Aid The Young Couple

MAKING marriage financially possible for hundreds of thousands of young people is not a matter of sentiment. It is a serious business of saving young couples from frustration, of preserving the home, of stemming the rising tide of promiscuity, delinquency and divorce. So declares Howard Whitman in The Reader's Digest for October.

In an article condensed from Better Homes and Gardens, Whitman urges family aid to young couples, the revival of the old customs of the dowry and the bride's chest, and the continued support of the son or daughter who marries while still in college. In the America of the past, he points out, it was unthinkable that a young couple should marry without being given a few acres of land, a team and wagon, or a plow, or a cowhorn, or even a house. But in up-to-date, civilized America we have evolved the idea that the newly-married couple should be independent of all aid.

ILLUSION AND DISILLUSION

Boys and girls in their late teens and early twenties are surrounded with the ideals of marriage and home building. Whitman contends: "We lure them toward marriage in our movies, our fiction, in the whole romantic gloss with which we dispel this illusion with 'Don't be a fool, Alice. It's absurd to marry a boy who's making only

$30 a week.' . . . The result is a sex dilemma which fills psychiatrists' offices."

Early marriage, according to one authority quoted in the article, leads to far better physical and psychological adjustment. Cases of incompatibility are more numerous among late-married couples.

University statistics show that, among returned G.I.s, married veterans receive significantly higher marks than unmarried ones. The dean's office of one college stated: "Marriage has a settling influence on students. They have someone to make good for, someone who is pleased when their record is high, someone to encourage them when things go wrong."

Why Can't We . . . ?

By JOSEPH LISTER RUTLEDGE

The Wall Street Journal, in a rather petulant aside, protests the incessant nature of questions that run like this:

"We spent hundreds of billions for war, why can't we spend a few millions for this or that?" Brought down to everyday experience the question," says the Journal, "seems akin to this:

"We spent $1,500 to have the hospital cure mother, why can't sister have $250 for a fur coat?" The answer is the same in both cases; the more you take from your purse the less remains."

You see, it isn't as simple as saying that if Canada can spend 15 or 16 billion for war, she can spend as much for this or that. And the reason for that isn't only that we have already spent our 15 billion. It's because there is nothing else that we are as certain about as we were of our war aims. Sure, peace is a good thing but there are almost as many views of how to achieve it as there are persons. So before we go on with the—"if you can do this, you can do that" argument, we had better begin counting noses. They are closer to the nub of the argument than are the dollars. We can't spend as much money for cancer research as we can for whisky because there are more people who like a drink than there are afraid of cancer. Maybe it doesn't make sense, and yet it does, for opinions are the real coin.

When enough people think one way the coin will always be available.

The Moving Finger Writes . . .

WHY?

Nancy Hodges in her interesting column says, "If I ever get time," she is going in for "simple language." That would be a thrill to have simple language from a politician!

The word "why" is simple, and perhaps "Nancy" will tell us why the Old Age Pensioners in this country need to have an Old Age Pensioners' Organization and a magazine to fight the cause of persons who should deal directly with the government department. Is this another flea feeding on the lesser fleas?

The old age person should need only his or her position explained as legislation is already on our statute books. The law is explicit, and with the means test abolished (as every member in the House of Commons agrees), why should Mr. Bennett need to make his appeal for membership?

A. CAROLYN BAYFIELD, James Bay Hotel.

INVOLVES EVERYBODY

Many people have been realizing, and many more will, in Canada and other countries of the Commonwealth—not less in the United States—the profoundly adverse effect on their own personal lives of the United Kingdom's drastic cut in imports.

This growing understanding of the direct and indirect effects on employment and, therefore, purchasing power of citizens, is no new one for people who studied international trading in the '30s. First came in the League of Nations embargoes and sanctions, while mass meetings of citizens in various countries urged embargoes and boycotts in various forms—retaliatory or for sound or unsound economic reasons. I learnt then that total embargoes—completely cutting off a commodity from a country—was impossible, as countries often buy for others and sell part or all to another nation again to obtain the goods they need.

But I also learnt how many people were engaged in production for export—all that is needed in materials included as well as assembling and transportation and much else—quite distinct from those who held shares in exporting companies, many of whose shareholders were not the "battered rich," but people retired on moderate means. Buying imports also employs many— affecting all of us.

Truly no nation, as no man, liveth unto himself. Cordell Hull called for world free trade years ago. He was right indeed.

(MRS.) ALICE COLCLOUGH, View Royal.

QUERY

In your editorial of Tuesday, Sept. 16, you refer to a very small minority of the public under a heavily-dominated C.C. of L. Union leadership pressing Premier Hart for a special session of the Legislature to reconsider Bill 39, that this small minority did not represent the views of the majority of the public.

As a member of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 230 of the A.F.

of L., I wish to correct this misimpression conveyed by your editorial. The small minority of the public to which you refer is the great bulk of the population of B.C., employed in all phases of the industrial life of the province, regardless of whether they are members of the C.C. of L. or the A.F. of L.

To substantiate these facts, let me point out that the Vancouver, New Westminster and District Trades and Labor Council, A.F. of L., passed a resolution at their recent meeting "that a special committee on Bill 39 be instructed to circulate among affiliated locals a petition calling on the government of B.C. to hold a special session to amend the I.C.A. Act." When this resolution was forwarded to the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council, A.F. of L., it was sent to the affiliated locals and the I.B.E.W., Local 230, heartily endorsed it. It is also a known fact that the Vancouver A.F. of L. Council was the first major labor body to take a stand against Bill 39.

It would be considerably more fair to your subscribers and less a measure of contempt of organized labor if you had made an inquiry into the public's reaction to Bill 39 before writing such an editorial. Anyone who has studied the bill can recognize instantly the clauses that deprive organized labor of its democratic rights and endanger its existence by forcing a long-drawn-out arbitration procedure under penalties of the law.

Global Survey

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst

ONE tumultuous week has passed since the western democracies, paced by America, opened their major offensive in the United Nations to focus world attention on the threat to peace produced by Russia's tactics for aggressive expansion of Communism—and already global opinion as represented in the U.N. has rendered a vehement verdict condemning Red methods.

Barring the support of her satellites, the Soviet Union stands virtually alone in this great issue among nations who would like to be its friends. Of course the ultimate objective of the western offensive is to force Russia through public opinion to abandon the methods she has been pursuing, but it remains to be demonstrated whether she will bow to the verdict. There are doubts on that score.

Yesterday Britain, the last of the Big Five to mount the Assembly rostrum, declared her position through State Minister Hector McNeill and ranged herself solidly with the United States who previously had been joined by France and China. So the Big Five line-up on this issue is the United States, Britain, France and China versus Russia. The others, barring the Russian-dominated countries, also have been flocking about the banner of democracy.

BLISTERING WARNING

McNeill, 37-year-old Scotsman who is a protégé of Foreign Secretary Bevin, lined up his country with the United States in a dramatic address directed mainly to Russia. This quick-minded, tough-talking young statesman, whose two-listed methods are rather reminiscent of Bevin's, first hammered the Muscovites and then appealed to them to drop what he described as their unyielding attitude toward world problems. The keynote of his speech was this blistering warning:

"If the Soviet government considers that in all areas its power must be extended, if it thinks that in describing any international situation its description must be accepted, then I say without qualification that not only will the United Nations be destroyed, but the unstable peace of the world will crumble and crash, bringing us all the ranging, hideous consequences to which Mr. Vishinsky drew our attention."

McNeill was referring to the bitter speech made in the Assembly last week by Soviet delegate Vishinsky, who charged Americans with war-mongering. Yesterday, by the way, Moscow newspapers printed New York dispatches alleging that Vishinsky's address had caused "complete panic and bubbling wrath" among "American reactionaries," pictured as wanting war with Russia.

Meantime the Marshall plan which Russia claims is designed to give the United States control of western Europe, was being earnestly studied in both Washington and Paris without regard to Russia's opposition.

POOR SHOW

Winnipeg Free Press

To the better electoral technicians of the Kremlin, the Hungarian poll must have appeared a rather poor show. It failed to pile up the usual 90 per cent Communist majority and it did not deceive the Hungarian people.

With more experience, it should be possible for the Hungarian Communists to do better and perfect the democratic process next time.

UNWAISTCOATED

The Times of London

Some sympathy is due to trusty old friend, the waistcoat which during the long spell of hot weather has been universal cast off. The waistcoat has been not merely neglected; it is atriphed. A waistcoated man in the street is almost as conspicuous as one wearing a hard straw hat the "boater" of yesteryear. I anyone rising in the cool of the morning has been deceived into setting out for his day's work in a waistcoat, he has bitterly regretted it by noon. And yet this disdainful treatment seems harsh on a garment which does so much to embellish mankind and can make such rich compensation for a general shabbiness. A man thus transformed is like a ostrich burying its head in the sand; he believes himself invisible save for his resplendent waistcoat. It is essentially the garb of festivity. White or fawn colored or of a delicate, pearl grey it can lift its wearer into higher and brighter sphere; can convert an ugly duckling into a beautiful swan.

Quota Club Plans Colorful Fall Fashion Show Oct. 1

Crisp as a newly-plucked McIntosh Red and colorful as the autumn-hued leaves will be the Fall Fashion Revue, to be staged by the Quota Club of Victoria Oct. 1, in the Sirocco Ballroom, in aid of the fund to provide a home for senior citizens of Greater Victoria.

The latest in fall styles with longer-length skirts, pencil-slim suits and first of the season dinner gowns will be included in the clothes to be modeled, from 2 to 5 in the afternoon and again from 8 to 10 in the evening.

There will be new-style fur coats and specially-designed hats. A highlight for autumn brides will be the two bridal parties.

Miss Sara Spencer will open the fashion revue and tea will be served in the afternoon. The program has been arranged by Miss Eleanor Mahaffey and will feature music of the United Nations. At the conclusion of the revue in the evening, dancing will be held from 10 to 1 with the Sirocco orchestra providing music.

Mrs. Viola McPhee is general convener of the fashion revue, with Miss Marjorie Gibbons, assistant general convener. Mrs. Mildred Poulton and Mrs. Edith Wilkes are assisting conveners. Mrs. W. Pearce, assisted by Mrs. Eunice Arnold and Mrs.

Ruth Hutcheson, will convene the tea while Mrs. Marjorie Mills will be in charge of decorations and flowers. Mrs. Betty Trimmer and Mrs. Molly Watts will be in charge of tickets.

Decorations will carry out the fall motif and there will be dancing by pupils of Wynne Shaw. Clothes modeled in the revue will be provided by Lyle's Ladies' Wear, Ritz Millinery and Wilkes Furriers.

Banff Trip Follows Pepper-Ross Rites

Honeymooning in Banff and Red Deer, Alta., are Mr. and Mrs. Percy Pepper, who were married quietly Sept. 19 in the vestry of Metropolitan United Church. The early evening ceremony was performed by Rev. A. E. Whitehouse.

The bride, the former Miss Edith Muriel Ross, daughter of A. Ross, 4018 Grange Road, and the late Mrs. Ross, chose for the occasion, a Queen's blue afternoon dress, with blue headress and shoulder-length veil. Her corsage bouquet was of pink rosebuds, white swainsonia and heather.

Bridal attendant, Mrs. J. Goodwin, wore a street-length dress of blue crepe and black hat trimmed with a matching blue ostrich plume.

Frank Simpson was best man for the groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Pepper, 4010 Grange Road. Solos were offered by Miss J. Duncan.

A reception followed at North War Community Hall. Guests were welcomed by the couple assisted by Mrs. Frank Simpson and Mrs. W. R. Payne. Toast to the bride was given by L. J. Pepper, the groom's father. A three-tier wedding cake topped with a vase of pink rosebuds centred the bride's table. Mrs. H. Bertucci and Miss Jean Duncan provided musical entertainment.

For the wedding trip the bride wore a burgundy wine suit, winter white hat and black accessories.

Ladies' Guild, St. Alban's Church, Thursday, 2-30, church hall, plans for harvest supper to be discussed.

Victoria P.T.A. Leaders To Attend Workshop

Seven members of Parent-Teacher Associations in Victoria and on the Island will attend the Parents' Institute, a workshop in discussion group techniques to be held at Acadia Camp at the University of British Columbia, Vancouver, October 6 to 10.

The workshop is presented by the Extension Department of the University, in co-operation with the British Columbia Parent-Teacher Federation.

"Keen interest is being evidenced in this course and local P.T.A.'s are appointing delegates to attend," said Mrs. Ernest Evans, provincial organizer for Vancouver Island and immediate past president of the Victoria and District Parent-Teacher Council, today.

Among the local Parent-Teacher members who have already registered for the sessions are:

Mrs. William Blair, president Victoria and District Parent-Teacher Council and representative of Oaklands P.T.A.; Mrs. G. W. Pottinger, first vice-president Victoria and District P.T.

Council; Mrs. Evans; Mrs. Reg. Freemantle, discussion group chairman, Victoria and District P.T. Council; Mrs. K. Johansson, president Langford P.T.A.; Mrs. Jack Fraser, discussion group leader, South Park P.T.A.; Mrs. J. W. Smith, discussion group leader, Esquimalt P.T.A.

The pre-school child, nursery school principles in co-operative play groups, significant factors in the pre-adolescent years and teen-ager in the community will be among topics presented by the Parents' Institute.

"Do you manage money or does money manage you," will be among the featured subjects. Problems in family living will be discussed.

Outstanding authorities on the various subjects will speak. They include Professor E. S. W. Belyea, Department of Philosophy and Psychology, U.B.C.; Dr. G. M. Kirkpatrick and Dr. U. P. Byrne of the Child Guidance Clinic; Mrs. K. McKenzie from Gordon Community House; Miss Helen Ross, Metropolitan Health Committee and Miss Barbara M. Finlayson, Family Welfare Bureau and Department of Social Work, U.B.C.

The workshop is designed to assist leaders of discussion groups and those intending to become leaders, to improve their leadership methods. Practice sessions will be followed by evaluation periods.

Lectures on the principles of leadership will cover: Procedure in group thinking; chairmanship of group thinking; methods of securing group discussion; the place of emotion in group thinking and what the discussion leader expects from his group.

Lecturers and discussion leaders will include: Mrs. C. E. Borden, Mrs. S. N. F. Chant, Dr. Elda Lindenfeld; Miss Marion MacDonald; Mrs. E. Winn; Professor E. S. W. Belyea; Dr. W. G. Black; Mrs. Peter Amy; R. J. Boroughs and Kelvin Large.

Registration is open to all members of Parent-Teacher Associations and members of other organizations with similar interests. Anyone interested in the course may obtain full information by telephoning Mrs. Reg. Freemantle, B1455.

Training Course For Group Leaders

Newspaper reading and radio habits and education of the adult mind will be among topics for discussion at the Community Leadership Course to be given at Victoria High School each Thursday from 7.30 to 9.30, starting Oct. 2, under auspices of the Recreation Council of Greater Victoria, in conjunction with the Victoria Night School. A committee was formed to study the question of adult education for more understanding participation in home and community welfare, at a recent meeting of the Welfare Council of Greater Victoria.

Feeling that "trained leadership" was the first requisite, Dr. H. R. Anderson, chairman of the sub-committee, prepared the course in leadership training to be given.

The October syllabus will include Dr. J. M. Ewing of Victoria College who will deal with the physical and mental health of the leader. The leader's newspaper and radio habits will be discussed by Miss Margaret Clay, librarian and Dick Batey, CJVL. Miss Estelle Bonnell will speak on motives and incentives in community leadership.

"The Adult Mind—Why Educate It?" will be the topic of discussion by Dr. H. R. Anderson. In November, Miss Margaret Hines of the James Bay Community Centre and Dave Secker of the Community Chest and Welfare Council will deal with neighborhood resources and opportunities and community welfare co-ordination, respectively. H. A. Beckwith and Rev. H. Hills will lead a round table on the art of discussion.

Club accounting and recording will come in December under the guidance of R. Heywood of Victoria High School. William Gaddes of Victoria College will speak on the individual and how he can be encouraged to fulfill his ego within the generally accepted pattern.

Dr. Anderson will conclude the first half term with an evaluation of the course and plans for the second half. In addition to the speakers, some practical work will be arranged.

Restrictions Limit Honeymoon Plans Of Royal Couple

LONDON (AP)—The world's most famous romantic couple, Princess Elizabeth and Lieut. Philip Mountbatten, may have to be content with a quiet honeymoon in this land of scarcity.

Behind such an enforced expedient, if widespread opinion in well-posted circles proves correct, lies a royal resolution to abide by Britain's revised code of austerity, more severe in some respects than wartime restrictions.

It is known the King has insisted upon fullest economy in the spending of money, the use of materials and facilities, and the employment of labor. Anything less, it is authoritatively represented, would be improper and unfair to a scrimping public.

Prior to the recent imposition of a ban on all foreign pleasure travel, Elizabeth and her fiancé considered spending at least part of their wedding holiday abroad, possibly in Norway, with Princess Elizabeth's great-uncle, King Haakon. Unofficial reports have it that the King decided against a special dispensation for a member of the royal family.

A trip to sterling-area Dominions would fall outside these restrictions, but it would be expensive. What is more, although thrift is the prime consideration, another factor would be a desire scrupulously to avoid any suggestion, however dim, that one part of the Commonwealth and Empire was being favored over another.

Generally it is assumed the couple will visit a distant part of the Commonwealth, most likely Australia or New Zealand or both, next year, following a custom established generations ago by royal newlyweds.

The royal couple alternatively could avail itself of the repeatedly expressed hospitality of Canada, or of one of several American invitations. Here, too, however, the same frugal restraints obviously apply.

Thus, in the end, the choice probably will be a country house, in the usually more clement south of England, which would be offered by friends of the royal family for as long as the couple wished to remain in it.

Official comment has been limited to the absolute disclaimer, "We haven't a clue where they will spend their honeymoon."

Jordan River Couple Have 25th Anniversary

The 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Lines of Jordan River was celebrated Saturday evening when relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Young, Cranmore Road.

Highlight of the evening was the receiving of a congratulatory telegram from Mrs. Lines' aunt and uncle in Birmingham, England.

A buffet supper table was centred with a decorated three-tier wedding cake, made by a friend of the family, Mrs. Mina Hansen. Mr. and Mrs. Lines have made their home at Jordan River for the past 20 years.

The name Toronto, of Indian origin means "a place of meeting."

Woods were named conveners of a rummage sale to be held on Oct. 11. Next meeting will be in the form of a work meeting in the Market Building, Oct. 10 at 7 in the evening. Members are to bring donations for the rummage sale to the meeting. Arrangements to have donations picked up may be made by telephoning Mrs. Grant, G 2687.

Oaklands—The sewing group of Oaklands P.T.A. will meet at the home of Mrs. D. H. Porteous, 1670 North Dairy Road, Wednesday from 2 to 4.

The Pickle Is Off To School

Pickles in the lunch box spark other foods.

Recent tests reveal that pickles have nutritional virtues—namely, some vitamin A, B and C. So now they are added to well-balanced school lunch boxes, because they perk up sandwiches, become the "life of the party," and make young appetites more eager for other foods.

Pickle-Egg-n-Bacon Spread—Four hard-cooked eggs, 2 slices crisp bacon, salt, pepper, 3 tablespoons chopped sweet pickle or sweet pickle relish, 3 tablespoons mayonnaise. Dice eggs; crumble bacon. Combine all ingredients, mixing well.

Ham de Luxe—One 3-ounce can deviled ham, 3 tablespoons sweet pickle relish, ¼ cup chopped peanuts, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise. Combine all ingredients, mixing well.

Pickle-Cream Cheese Spread—Two-thirds cup cream cheese (2 3-ounce packages), 2 tablespoons light cream, ¼ cup sweet pickle relish. Combine all ingredients, mixing well.

Pickle-Wich—One large processed dill pickle, ¼ cup grated cheese, 1 tablespoon chili sauce. Scoop out centre of dill pickle. Mix cheese and chili sauce; stuff pickle. Wrap in waxed paper.

Beef Hash a la Omelet—Grease shallow muffin pans, sprinkle bottoms and sides with fine seasoned crumbs, fill with hash and bake. Put a poached egg on top. Bring on the catchup.

Tomato Juice—Wash tomatoes, remove cores, but do not peel, cut tomatoes in pieces. Bring to boil and boil in covered pan 5 minutes. Press through sieve or purer. Bring juice to boiling point. Pour into containers leaving ½-inch headspace in glass sealers and ¼-inch in plain tin cans. Add 1 teaspoon salt per quart or 28-ounce tin can. Adjust rubber rings and tops. Process in boiling water bath for 15 minutes for pints, quarts, 20 and 28-ounce tin cans, or in an oven with automatic heat control for 20 minutes.

Orangeade—(Serves 8)—Four cups orange juice; 1 cup lemon juice; 1 cup sugar; 2 cups water. Combine ingredients and stir well. Pour over cracked ice in tall glasses or serve from a punch bowl. Garnish with orange slices for added flavor.

It's Delicious!—Take a quart of French-vanilla ice cream, beat into it a cup of sweetened vanilla-flavored whipped cream and pour over frozen sliced (mostly defrosted) strawberries.

Melon Melange—(6 to 8 servings)—1 cup cantaloupe balls or cubes; 1 cup watermelon balls or cubes; 1 cup honeydew melon balls or cubes; 1 cup orange pieces; 1 cup or more fresh orange juice. Chill and serve in dessert glasses.

Party ANGEL CAKE

Enjoy Baking Success Like This!

GUESTS spread the fame — families sing the praise — of women who make cakes like this! Soft as a cloud, heavenly tender, superbly moist and flavorful — this is cake as you'd like to make it. And you can have success like this every time, if you use Swans Down Cake Flour.

Sponge cake or butter cake — white or chocolate or spice — Swans Down makes cakes that are fluffy, moist... more delicious. Even economy cakes have a luxury taste, with Swans Down.

Made from the cream of selected Canadian wheat crops, Swans Down is milled by an exclusive "Controlled Milling" process, and sifted again and again through silk, until superbly even and 27 times as fine as ordinary flour. For parties, for any day — you'll bake a better cake with Swans Down.

CHERRY ANGEL CAKE

- 1 cup sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
- 1 cup egg whites
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon cream of tartar
- 1½ cups sifted granulated sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- ¼ teaspoon almond extract
- ½ cup finely chopped maraschino cherries

Sift flour once, measure; sift four times. Beat whites and salt until foamy throughout, sift in cream of tartar and beat stiff but soft dry. Fold in sugar carefully, 2 tablespoons at a time. Fold in flavoring. Sift and fold in flour, a small amount at a time. Pour ½ of batter into ungreased angel cake pan; sprinkle with half the cherries. Add another ½ of batter, remaining cherries, then remaining batter. Run knife through from top to bottom of pan, to mix cherries throughout. Bake in slow oven (275°F.) 30 minutes; raise heat to 325° and bake about 30 minutes longer. Invert on rack until cold. May be covered with chocolate icing.

A prize-winning Cake Flour for over 50 years

Swans Down CAKE FLOUR

Tested Recipes on Each Package

How Swans Down is Different from Ordinary Flour:
FINER — as icing sugar is finer than granulated!
MORE EVEN — as graded pans are more even than ungraded!
LIGHTER — as light portions are lighter than whole ones!
WHEAT SELECTED FOR SOFT GLUTEN — as you choose meat cuts for tenderness!

Film Favorite In New Mystery

Helen Vinson, long a popular film favorite, returns to the screen in a prominent role in "The Lady and the Monster," Republic's psychological murder mystery now showing at the Rio Theatre.

Miss Vinson went from the University of Texas to a stage career via Houston's Little Theatre. Her next stop was Philadelphia, where she became successful in stock. She then invaded Broadway.

Erich von Stroheim, Vera Hruba Ralston and Richard Arlen head the cast of "The Lady and the Monster."

YORK THEATRE

A new British film star of any magnitude is still a rarity, and when 6 ft. 3 in. Michael Rennie shot to the fore and achieved fame overnight as Margaret Lockwood's lover in the sensational "I'll Be Your Sweetheart." Now Michael Rennie is presented in his second role under his contract with Gainsborough Pictures. In "The Wicked Lady," now at the York Theatre, Rennie appears as Kit Locksby, a young gallant. He again plays a leading role, and is once more fated to fall hopelessly in love with Margaret Lockwood.

Where To Go Tonight

(As Advertised)
ATLAS—Fred MacMurray and Paulette Goddard in "Suddenly It's Spring."
CAPITOL—"Dear Ruth" with William Holden and Joan Caulfield.
DOMINION—"Come and Get It," starring Edward Arnold.
OAK BAY—Van Johnson and Lucille Ball in "Easy to Wed."
PLAZA—"The Macomber Affair," starring Reginald Denny.
RIO—"The Lady and the Monster," starring Vera Hruba Ralston.
ROYAL—June Haver and Mark Stevens in "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now."
YORK—James Mason and Margaret Lockwood in "The Wicked Lady."

PLAZA THEATRE

If you're thinking of an African safari, girls, take a tip from Joan Bennett who stars in "The Macomber Affair," the current hit at the Plaza Theatre through United Artists release. When Miss Bennett aims her gun at an onrushing elephant, she does it in style, adorned with specially designed John Fredrick's hunting hats as well as the latest thing in chucker boots made by the famous Hollywood bootmaker, Joe Napoli.

Barge Will Publicize Victoria To Argentina

The sight of the Island Tug and Barge Ltd. barge Island Yarder will gladden the hearts of all Victoria protagonists. The barge, shown above, will carry the name, Victoria, Canada, in big, bold, white letters right down to Buenos Aires, Argentina, when she makes the long journey with six former U.S. army tugs, to deliver them to Argentine interests. The tug Snohomish will tow the barge and her spectacular cargo.

Romantic Drama Coming To Royal

Ann Sheridan will be seen as co-star for the first time with Zachary Scott and Lew Ayres, when Warner Bros.' new romantic drama, "The Unfaithful," opens at the Royal Theatre tomorrow. Written for the screen by David Goodis and James Gunn, the new film dramatizes the romantic and economic problems faced by a returning veteran. Miss Sheridan is cast as an unfaithful wife whose extreme loneliness during her serviceman-husband's long absence leads to a series of emotional climaxes.

Logging Excitement Revived On Screen

The dynamiting of the giant logs and their thundering journey down the river are only two of the thrills you'll enjoy when "Come and Get It!" Samuel Goldwyn's production of Edna Ferber's colorful novel of life in the great lumber camps of the north woods, begins a three-day engagement at the Dominion Theatre today with Edward Arnold in his greatest role as Barney Glasgow, the chore boy who became a lumber baron.

Joel McCrea, Frances Farmer, Mady Christians and Walter Brennan are prominently featured in the cast of "Come and Get It!"

ATLAS THEATRE

Lovely, red-headed Arleen Whelan resumes her screen career, after a long absence, in Paramount's new comedy, "Suddenly It's Spring," currently showing at the Atlas Theatre with Fred MacMurray and Paulette Goddard in starring roles.

Miss Whelan left Hollywood in 1942 after an unhappy beginning in films due to her lack of experience. Soon after, she went into the New York stage hit, "Doughgirls," in which she scored a personal triumph during the play's run of over a year.

CAPITOL THEATRE

It is always a great shock to people who meet Mona Freeman for the first time to discover that the Paramount player is married and a very capable housekeeper. Mona looks about fourteen years old, which won her the coveted role of the teen-aged Miriam in "Dear Ruth," co-starring William Holden and Joan Caulfield at the Capitol Theatre. "Dear Ruth" is the film version of the hit Norman Krasna play that ran for two-and-a-half years on Broadway.

OAK BAY THEATRE

When Esther Williams proved her ability to sing and dance while on a tour of servicemen's hospitals, M.G.M. promptly decided to let the former swimming champion reveal her musical talents in its new technicolor production, "Easy to Wed." The picture, starring Miss Williams with Van Johnson, Lucille Ball and Keenan Wynn, currently at the Oak Bay Theatre.

The talent that first brought Miss Williams to pictures—swimming—hasn't overlooked in the new musical.

Ontario Mayor Sees Wolf Kill Steer

RENFREW (CP)—District residents were still talking today about the wolf killing of a year-and-a-half old steer weighing 700 pounds on Big Black Donald Creek, 18 miles west of Calabogie, which was witnessed by Mayor J. R. Barry and William P. Allum of Renfrew. Long-time residents of the district and local game wardens have known wolves to attack sheep and lambs when deer are scarce, but can recall no previous occasion when the animals have tackled anything the size of the steer.

Olivia DeHavilland Says No Freedom Lost In Marriage

By FRANKLIN ARTHUR
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Olivia de Havilland, who a little more than a year ago was Hollywood's No. 1 bachelor girl, is the town's prize booster for the married state.

She stopped playing insane long enough on "The Snake Pit" set to offer a few sane observations, gleaned from her first year as Mrs. Mark Goodrich.

"There's nothing like wedded life. No girl should be without it. But don't get married just to be Mrs. Somebody. You really do know the real thing when it arrives. Make sure yours is. 'Don't fear for your freedom. I haven't given up one single thing, but I've gained lots. I can even have coffee in bed, served by my husband. What bachelor girl can make that statement?' There have been moments, of course. That night at New York's St. Regis, for one. It's a story she's kept quiet for almost a year.

She and her writer-husband had been married two weeks. No sooner had they reached the room than she took out the marriage license, propped it on the mantel. Then they looked around. Twin beds!

"Not for us, I decided. Mark agreed. I called the manager. 'This,' I said, 'is Miss de Havilland. I mean, Mrs. Goodrich. Could we have a bed... I mean, could we have a double bed instead of the twin ones?' 'Certainly,' he replied. Ultimately it arrived, carried by six men, followed by six maids with sheets. What a production! In the midst of it all, one of them spotted the marriage license.

You've never heard such giggling. I fled."

But, she finished, we still have a double bed."

Very quietly last week, on his 25th birthday, William S. Hart Jr. came into a $100,000 trust fund set up at his birth. But there's been no indication he's giving up his contest of his two-gun father's will, which excluded him and his mother, Winifred Westover, from the $1,000,000. Groucho Marx is branching out again. He and Norman Krasna have written a play, "Elizabeth," which Melvyn Douglas will produce and direct, hoping eventually to reach Broadway with it. And Groucho's mulling a deal which would make him emcee of a new radio audience-participation show. John Gunther is working hard on his newest, "Inside Washington." Radio stations are cracking down on off-color recordings. KFWB banned 25 objectionable ones last week.

Clem Davies-Avak Team Take In $2,922

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP)—A publicity man announced Monday that Avak Hagopian's appearance Sunday at three services netted a voluntary offering of $2,922.60.

The publicist, Kenneth C. Tinkham, works for Dr. Clem Davies, evangelist and associate of the bearded 20-year-old Armenian, who touched the sick and crippled before crowds at Shrine Auditorium.

Reds Choose Wallace

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—William Z. Foster, national chairman of the Communist Party in the United States, told a small party assembly here Sunday night that Henry Wallace was the party's choice among prospective candidates for President in 1948. Foster described Wallace as "the man upon whom the mantle of Roosevelt has fallen."

Transport Officials To Consult Mayor

Transport Minister Lionel Chevrier and R. C. Vaughan, president of the C.N.R., will meet Mayor Percy George during their visit to the city Oct. 5 to 7 to attend the launching of the C.N.R. passenger ship T.S.S. Prince George.

Mrs. Chevrier will christen the new ship, Mayor George was informed, and Mrs. Vaughan and N. B. Walton, vice-president of the C.N.R. will be included in the party.

Although it was not mentioned specifically in the letter, it is believed that the question of Ogden Point Piers and their renovation and improvement might be the subject of discussion. The special engineer who came out this summer to inspect the docks has not yet made his report public.

OVER THE FENCE

"Do I think relations between capital and labor have been all worked out yet?" repeated the old timer, answering a question. "No, I don't. But I do think things have gone far enough that men of goodwill, on both sides, can shape them up in fairly final form pretty soon."

"It is too big a question to answer in a few words, but there are some things clear. There are more and more employers trying to give employees the best wages, the best working conditions, and the utmost security that is possible. They are doing that because they have found it is good business—that the best asset an employer can have is a contented, loyal, steady staff of employees. They are doing it also because they like to feel that a business they have created is giving a good living to a lot of self-respecting men and women, and their families."

"Unquestionably trades unions have had a lot to do with improving conditions, and nowadays most employers, especially if the business has grown too big for personal contact between the employer and his men, like to deal with well established and responsible trades unions."

"There is more to be done, of course. Right now you can find groups of employers sitting down with groups of workers, trying to work out plans for steady, year-round work without seasonal layoffs, and lots of other things like that. It is the sensible, modern way of going at things. All it takes is goodwill on both sides. But it means two things—employers should be on their guard against an employer who gets labor's back up by a bullying attitude, and labor must be on guard against agitators who try to stir up discontent and trouble."

"Over the Fence" is presented in this newspaper each week under the sponsorship of the British Columbia Federation of Trade and Industry.

RULE OF THUMB FOR TRAVELERS

Running out of gas is no joke. Most of us at Southern Pacific have automobiles, too, and we know how unfunny an empty tank can be. That's why we say, "Next time, try the train" is a good rule of thumb for travelers. You enjoy comfort, convenience and dependability at very low fares. For example, only $26.43 one way, $46.95 roundtrip to Los Angeles in comfortable, air-conditioned chair cars. Chair car fare to San Francisco $20.13 one way, $36.25 roundtrip. First Police Exams
For Sub-Inspector

First examinations for promotion of non-commissioned officers to the rank of sub-inspector are being held this week by the B.C. Police.

Making this announcement, Commissioner T. W. S. Parsons said the examinations mark a new policy and that in future all promotions in the force would be made by examination "in order that we can get the very best material available."

Those writing the examinations are:

Sgt. G. H. Clark, M.C., Prince Rupert; Radio Supervisor W. F. Conlan, Victoria; Assistant Mechanical Superintendent, T. Flander, Kamloops; Sgt. D. Halcrow, Penticton; Sgt. O. L. Hall, Powell River; Sgt. W. J. Hatcher, Courtenay; Sgt. J. W. Hooker, Vancouver; Sgt. T. Herdman, North Vancouver; Sgt. E. A. Jarvis, Ashcroft; Staff Sgt. G. A. Johnson, Prince Rupert; Detective Sgt. C. Ledoux, Victoria; Staff Sgt. J. H. McClinton, Kamloops; Staff Sgt. A. Macdonald, Burnaby; Mechanical Superintendent H. D. Macdonald, Vancouver; Sgt. R. S. Nelson, M.C., Nelson; Chief Clerk E. Information For War Veterans

A series of eight articles covering various phases of veterans' legislation in which D.V.A. authorities give information to servicemen on subjects of training, awaiting returns benefits, re-establishment credit, building priorities, casualty rehabilitation, veterans' loans, treatment and Veterans' Land Act, has been released by A. T. Paton, public relations officer for the department.

Only under exceptional circumstances can a man apply for vocational training after Dec. 31 this year—the first article states. For the great majority that is the last date.

The answer is "yes" to the question of can a veteran who has taken vocational training apply for qualification under the Veterans' Land Act?

A veteran may repay the re-establishment credit he has spent, making the cheque payable to the Receiver General of Canada, in order to qualify for vocational training under the department.

Application must be made by Dec. 31 this year by veterans who wish training on-the-job—which is training under direct employment.

With regard to university training: By recommendation and approval of the District Rehabilitation Board, a student veteran may be granted one month of education training with payment of fees and allowances for each month spent in the services...

and if a student has an academic record sufficiently high to warrant a favorable recommendation from the university scholarship committee, his training allowance will be paid on a year-to-year basis beyond his period of entitlement as defined in the lead of the paragraph.

All supplemental examinations must be written, together with any deferred examinations, before student veterans are permitted to proceed with their next year of university training under allowances provided.

University training is approved in institutions outside of Canada. If training required by the candidate is not available in this country and conclusive evidence of its non-availability is produced by the veteran, his training in a university outside Canada may be authorized if approved by the head office of D.V.A.

If a veteran student fails his year at university there are two possibilities of his further training under D.V.A. allowances. In the first place, he may repeat the year at his own expense. On completion of the repeated year, his case is considered by the scholarship committee in conjunction with the rehabilitation board, and if he has successfully completed his year, and gives indication of being competent to proceed with his training program, he may be reinstated on allowances. Secondly, if he has attended university and pre-matriculation school for a total period of less than nine months, he may be eligible for courses under vocational training provisions of the Rehabilitation Act.

Bridge In Interior
Will Cost $31,104

Dominion Bridge Company today submitted to the provincial works department the lowest tender for the construction of the steel superstructure of the Eagle River Bridge on the Trans-Canada Highway two and a half miles from Taft. The firm tendered to do the job for $31,104.

Only other tender submitted was that of Western Bridge and Steel Fabricators, Ltd., $31,473.

New P.P.C.I.I.
Museum For Calgary

The Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry—Canada's famed "Princess Pat's" regiment—has announced its plans for the organization of a new regimental museum at Calgary, Alta. The work of cataloguing and conditioning exhibits has already been started by Lt. G. R. Kelly, although actual construction of the museum proper has not as yet commenced.

The regiment, already maintains a World War I museum.

It is intended to create rooms of exhibits where records and souvenirs of the regiment's many engagements in two world wars will be kept for posterity.

New Home Run Slugger

One of the brightest stars to break forth in major league baseball this season is Ralph Kiner, home run hitter of the Pittsburgh Pirates. To date the young outfielder has manufactured 50 circuit blows and is tied with Johnny Mize of the New York Giants for the leadership. Kiner joins the select circle of major league players who have hit 50 homers in one season. Here you see the finish of Kiner's swing, his grip, stance and the position of the feet as he belts the ball out of sight.

Frankie Filchok Finds Canadian Football Tough

TORONTO (CP)—Frankie Filchok, the big backfielder who came to Hamilton Tigers touted as the best United States import to cross the border, freely admits he finds Canadian football tougher than he expected—for a reason he should know lots about.

"It's the blocking," said flinging Frankie, still football's ineligible man in Canada as well as the U.S., with Tigers using him despite an Interprovincial Union ruling that makes every game he plays an automatic loss. "I sure miss the blocking."

The former New York Giants ace, who so far has fallen short of his super-star rating, figured at first Canada's 10-yards interference rule gave plenty of freedom to blockers. He's still "learning the hard way" it isn't the same as unlimited interference that "gives every man on every play something to do to help the ball-carrier."

Filchok thinks the difference in blocking shows up most against the receiving side on punts.

"In the American game, your players are all set to block off tacklers for you when you catch a punt," he said. "All the 'protection' Canadian rules give you is five yards. Five yards when all those tacklers are coming at you! brother, that's murder!"

STILL LIKES CANADIAN CODE

He said the three downs allowed in Canada also calls "for a different kind of thinking." He considers the extra down in U.S. football gives more flexibility for sequence plays, more chance to lure your opponent into a trap.

But don't get Frankie wrong. The 30-year-old native of Grindstone, Pa., who started his National Football League career in 1938 with Washington Redskins, finds plenty of differences he likes about the Canadian game. He thinks it has attracted some of the top-notch individualists from U.S. ranks.

"That seems to be the big difference," he said. "The American game concentrates more on team play, yours goes in for individualism."

Ronnie Benn Named Winner Of Softball Sportsmanship Award

Ronnie Benn, outfielder, first baseman and pitcher of Brentwood Aces, senior A softball team, will be honored at the annual general business meeting of the Victoria and District Softball Association at the Liberal Headquarters, Broughton and Government Streets, Friday at 8.

Benn was today named by softball officials as the recipient of the William Jones trophy, which is presented to the player showing the best sportsmanship during the softball season. He will be presented with the trophy at the meeting.

The trophy which has been on the shelf during the past few years was last awarded to Gordie Perkins, who performed this season with Douglas Tire of the senior loop.

Election of officers for the coming year will take place at the meeting. Presentation of knockout and league cups to managers of winning teams will also be made.

Officials of the association are looking forward to a good turnout as many important items of business are to be transacted.

Canadian Soccer Teams Perform In International Play

MONTREAL (CP)—W. McLaren McKellar, secretary of the Dominion Football Association, said here on his arrival from New York last night that a tentative agreement had been accepted by representatives of Cuba, Mexico, United States and Canada for international soccer games.

McKellar, who attended a special international soccer meeting at the United States Football Association headquarters in New York, said the agreement was accepted in principle by the other national representatives with certain reservations, which he declined to reveal.

Tentative arrangements were also completed to play the first international games between Canada and the United States. The first game is planned to take place at Toronto with the return game at Chicago.

'Y' Swim Classes Commence Oct. 1

St. Andrews Crowned Football Champions

VANCOUVER (CP)—Winnipeg Scottish are on their way back home today, still shaking their heads at the welcome given them by Vancouver St. Andrews in the Dominion soccer championships for the Connaught Trophy. The visitors were blanked for the second straight game in the best of three finals, 4 to 0, last night. The west coast club took the opening game 5 to 0 Saturday.

Throwing away all the inclinations of a good host, the coast club kept the famous trophy on the west coast in the first national final since 1939 when Vancouver Radials won the Dominion final in the east.

As in the first game Saturday, the Saints struck early scoring at the seven-minute mark when Frank Ambler converted a pass from Wes Henderson. Down one, and realizing that the coasters had solved their defence, the 'Peggies shifted to a kick and rush style and baffled the Vancouver Scots for the remainder of the first half.

GIFT GOAL

Henderson was the first to solve the defence in the second half, slipping through at the five-minute mark to ram a loose ball home past Jim Dickie in the Winnipeg net. It took the Saints another 22 minutes to break through again, this time with a gift goal. George Steele, who came on to replace Nick Glover, forced out with a dislocated elbow, sent an easy roller at Dickie who just stood there and watched it roll into the corner of the net.

Don Matheson wound up the scoring with six minutes left when he nipped in to rap another loose ball home. It was his fourth goal of the series as he scored the hat trick in the opener Saturday.

Winnipeg put up a better display than they did in the first game. They played a kick and rush style of game and while they never seriously threatened, they did keep the Vancouver eleven from playing its usual checker-board passing type of game in the first half.

The Saints broke the system down a little in the second half but the stubborn Scots kept breaking up attack after attack.

Towards the end, the crowd, having little to get excited about, started howling for a Winnipeg goal to avert a series shutout but the eastern champions were unable to oblige.

Bobby Rowe, Hockey Star Of Yesteryear, Passes

Bobby Rowe, 60, former Victoria hockey star and more recently one of the leading sports event and team promoters in Portland, Ore., died at his home Sunday night.

Rowe will be remembered by old-time hockey followers as a member of the Victoria Aristocrats, professional hockey club, which team he joined after two seasons with the famous Renfrew Millionaires.

During his playing days in Victoria Rowe played with such stars as Tommy Dunderdale, Lester Patrick, Bert Lindsay, Walter Small and Skinner Poulin.

He later went to Seattle where he performed with the Seattle Metropolitans, and was a member of that team when they won the Stanley Cup in the season of 1916-17.

He introduced professional hockey to Portland after his tenure in Seattle and for the past 27 years had been one of that city's leading sports figures. His last affiliation with hockey was in 1939 when he managed the Portland Buckaroos of the Pacific Coast League.

Rowe engaged in many promosion schemes while in Portland, backing the auto racing from the days of Barney Oldfield to the midgets now spinning the Portland Jantzen Park oval. He was co-sponsor of the professional football Portland Rockets in 1943. Born in Canada, Aug. 19, 1887, Rowe is survived by his wife and a daughter.

Juvenile Soccer League Draws Record Number Of Entries

The Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association is in for a banner year if the record number of 19 entries received at a meeting of the association is evidence of the popularity of the round-ball sport amongst the youngsters of the city.

Division one heads the list with five teams entered, with division two having four entries, division three, two entries, and divisions four and five, four entries.

Percy Payne was re-elected president of the association, with Alex Sillars first vice-president and F. Jenkins second vice-president. Art Smith was named secretary-treasurer and Jimmy Lees registrar.

Teams entered in the various divisions follow:

Division one—Esquimalt Meat Market, Heaney's, Marigold, Colquitz A.C., Eagles and Oak Bay.

Division two—Blackburn Rovers, Quarter Cab, Esquimalt Terriers, and Oak Bay.

Division three—Elks and Pacific Meat Market.

Division four—Esquimalt Rovers, Fairbridge Farm School, St. Louis College and Tillicum A.C.

Division five—Balmoral Tristies, Burnside, Y.M.C.A. and St. Saviours.

Assault May Back Out Of Big Race For Second Time

NEW YORK (AP)—The off-again, on-again $100,000 match race between Armed and Assault, billed as "the race of the year," is on the doubtful list once more today.

Late yesterday after Assault worked a mile and an eighth in a creditable, if not sparkling, 1:52 1-5, trainer Maxie Hirsch decided the colt couldn't possibly be at his peak for Saturday's scramble at Belmont, so he suggested that owner Robert J. Kieberg Jr., withdraw the colt from competition.

Final decision will be made at a huddle after lunch today at which the Assault "family" will sit in with owner Warren Wright and the training Jones boys, Ben and Jimmy, for Armed, and George E. Widener, Belmont Park boss.

While no one was coming right out in meeting before that to cancel the mile and a quarter special officially in advance, one of the parties at the huddle tipped that "you can call it off now—that's how it is."

That being the case, the Jones boys proposed an alternate suggestion immediately. Why not have Styxie, the world's leading money-winning horse, pinch-hit for Assault on Saturday?

This would mark the second time that Assault backed away from meeting the golden gleiding who is second only to Styxie among racing's all-time money winners. The first time came a week before they were originally scheduled to meet at Washington Park in Chicago Aug. 30. On that occasion it was because Assault popped up with an ailing foot.

By PETE SALLAWAY

BUDDY RYAN returns to Western International League baseball in a brand new role—that of owner-manager. Disposal of the Spokane franchise to Ryan and his partner by Sam Collins comes as a major surprise. Rated one of the finest cities in class B baseball on the continent, Spokane set a new attendance mark this season of around the 270,000 mark. Collins, a smart baseball operator, is getting along in years and must have figured it was a good time to quit the active role. You can wager he picked up a nice chunk of cash for the Spokane set-up. It is significant that no purchase price was mentioned.

IT IS LIKELY that Ryan will place a whole new team in Spokane next season. Buddy has never been a lover of the chain-store system in baseball so he can't imagine him renewing the working agreement Spokane had during the past season with the Brooklyn Dodgers. It was always said Ryan would never work with a club associated with one of the bigger farm systems which makes it improbable he would be ready to operate in close co-operation with the Dodgers. Ryan has a wealth of baseball connections and would have no trouble getting himself a good club. It is quite possible he will tie up with a Coast League outfit to assure himself of getting a certain percentage of his player material. Ryan's return to the W.I.L. gives the circuit one of the smartest minor league managers in the business.

SINCE THE CLOSE of the W.I.L. season, a number of players from the eight clubs have been making their presence felt with Coast League clubs. Sunday in Seattle pitchers Bob Hall and Bob Snyder of the Vancouver Rainiers combined to hurl the Rainiers to victory over Hollywood. Snyder was particularly outstanding. Taking over in the seventh he set the hard-hitting Hollywood club down in order for three innings. Leon Mohr, another member of the Caps, was at shortstop for Seattle, while Gordon Goldsberry, who looked so good for Yakima at first base was in the Hollywood lineup. Jack Harshman of the Victoria Athletics has been seeing plenty of action with San Diego and has been hitting the ball fairly well. Further proof that a good number of the boys seen in W.I.L. line-ups during the past season will get a chance to break into the coast circuit next year.

CANADIAN FOOTBALL is making its presence felt among the Navy athletes stationed at H.M.C.S. Naden. Learned today the bluejackets have organized a senior club and are attempting to arrange practice matches against the local Mustangs. In view of that 52 to 0 whitewashing the Mustangs suffered at the hands of the visiting Issaquah squad Saturday it would be a good thing for the city club to brush up its plays in matches against the tars. In addition the Navy will enter a junior squad in the local city league. Enthusiasm for the grid game is high among the young bluejackets.

Paulie Blank Wins Fight At Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—Paulie Blank of Spokane, Wash., scored a seventh-round knockout over Emory Jackson of Richmond, Calif., in a scheduled 10-round main-event bout on a fight card here Monday night. Paul weighed 158, Jackson 159. Fred Steele, 130, Vancouver, took a six-round decision from Cedric Flourney, 130, Detroit, while a second six-rounder ended in a draw between Charlie O'Kelly, 147, Vallejo, Calif., and Buddy Hoffman, 146, Seattle.

Brooklyn Dodgers Back Into Pennant

Brooklyn Dodgers, only baseball team ever to win a pennant at midnight without playing, awoke this morning as official National League champions of 1947.

Not many of the Brooks were aware of the good news until today. Only those few who had stayed over at pitcher Hugh Casey's restaurant learned last night that the long grind finally was over and that the Dodgers had backed into the pennant.

It came about when Chicago Cubs, who had dropped the opener of a day-night doubleheader, 4 to 2, defeated the Cardinals, 6 to 3, in the second game, thus eliminating them from the race.

Instead of the usual tumult and shouting that usually accompanies the winning of a flag, the players as well as the faithful took the triumph in stride.

"After all," one Brooklyn player declared, "it was 'in the bag' the minute we grabbed the rubber game in St. Louis last week." Last night's mathematical elimination of the Cards was strictly anti-climax.

SCHMITZ TURNS TRICK

Oddly enough, it was Johnny Schmitz, the southpaw pitcher who had turned back the Cards in the last game of the 1946 season necessitating an unprecedented playoff with Brooklyn, snuffed out St. Louis' final hopes. Schmitz relieved starter Paul Erickson in the third inning after the Cards had scored two runs to move within one run of the Cubs, and stopped the Redbirds with six-hit ball in the next 6½ innings.

Detroit fell into a second-place tie with the Boston Red Sox in the American League when they were held to a split in their doubleheader with Cleveland. Young Art Houtteman pitched the Tigers to a 6 to 4 victory in the opener. The Indians won the second game, 7 to 6, on Hank Edwards' three-run homer in the ninth inning off Virgil Trucks. Chicago White Sox and St. Louis Browns divided a doubleheader in Chicago, the Sox winning the second game, 4 to 0, after Sam Zoldak pitched the Browns to a 4 to 2 win in the opener. Joe Haynes hurled the shutout for the White Sox.

Local Men Catch Many Trout

Dan Thomas, left, gets help from two Esperanza Mine personnel at Alice Arm, on the mainland coast. E. Ingafiva, foreman, center, and John Murray, miner, to display the large array of Dolly Varden trout a Victoria party took recently in Kitsilt River. They used pieces of dog-salmon to lure the fish. Other Victorians on the party were Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Jones, H. Seatts and Harry Vickery.

Franklin K., moved up to challenge for lead after a quarter, raced head and head with pacemaker to quarter pole, then drew out to safe lead and was never in danger thereafter. Lady Onia was sent out on top at once, was best of others, but no match for winner. Lady Onia moved up on rail going down far side, got to top momentarily at quarter pole, but weakened from there to end. Ladder Sim could never reach leaders. Luet, Gerald broke to inside when start came, straightened out, but never appeared dangerous. Prince also ran away before start.

Declared—Jenny's Lass. Overweight—Lady Rogan (1).

DAILY DOUBLE (YANKEE TRICK-FRANKLIN K.) PAID $5.35

Sea Fiddler had to be hard ridden to get short lead in early part and was under pressure all the way, winning narrowly. Sparkling Blue provided strong contention under hunting race and held on gamely. Dr. Monroe moved up in final quarter to be third. Red Onalught provided strong contention in first part, but was weakening in final eighth. Solopie was never able to reach a contending position.

Declared—Lumpy, Miss Nimba, George Somers. Overweight—Happy Bob (2).

Baby Pagan, close to early speed, moved up steadily in final three-eighths, picked up leaders turning for home and drove to top in wire. Belle of Derry was too far out of it early but closed a long run in final quarter to be second. Assayer made move on rail entering stretch, got short lead but could not hold advantage. Ponde Pete set pace from break but was unable to match strides when challenged.

Declared—Brady. Overweight—Little Pine (2).

Polipat Wins Feature To Pay Longest Price

Those punters who like to get down on a long-shot continued to have their troubles at the Willows track, Monday, as favorites or second choices got under the wire in six out of the seven races.

Best win price of the afternoon was seen in the featured Courtney Handicap for two-year-olds over six furlongs and 30 yards. Disregarding his fine win Saturday the fans allowed R. C. Mitten's chestnut gelding, Polipat, to start at better than 5 to 1 and he proceeded to wrap up his field and win by two lengths over the odds-on-favorite Slip Stitch. Moving into the lead down the backstretch jockey Johnny Hruschak and his mount had no trouble the rest of the way. Polipat returned $13.05, $4.15 and $3.00 across the board.

When two odds-on-favorites, Yankee Trick and Franklin K. romped home in the first and second races, respectively, the smallest daily double of the meeting resulted, a modest $5.35.

Favored Ruby Pagan took the fourth in a driving finish with Belle of Derry and Assayer while Lady Playfair, second choice, was much the best in the fifth, winning by four lengths over Bill B., the early pacesetter.

Shasta King, another favorite with the bettors, topped the seventh by four lengths over Ascot Maid who took the place money by a head over the outsider June Elizabeth. Shasta King and Ascot Maid combined for a one-two payoff of $14.70.

It was disclosed yesterday that Galamond, in winning the seventh race Saturday, had established a new track record of 2:09.1 for the mile and one-quarter. The former mark of 2:10.4 was held by Missoula Boy. Galamond also holds the record for the mile and five-eighths of 2:50.1.

Major Hockey Squads Open Training Camps

The liniment bottle stayed uncorked today as the guys with a just about the healthiest—but most strenuous—jobs in the world got back to business.

Training was officially under way for another National Hockey League season, with the Oct. 15 opening date a short three weeks off.

The "big teams" of four of the league's six clubs took the ice yesterday, although most held "tryout schools" for rookies earlier.

The four camps officially starting were Toronto Maple Leafs at St. Catharines, Ont.; Chicago Black Hawks at Regina; New York Rangers at Lake Placid, N.Y., and the Canadiens on their Montreal Forum ice.

Detroit Red Wings, who have operated advance camps at Saskatoon and Waterloo, Ont., are due to start in earnest at Detroit in a day or two, when Olympia gets its ice surface.

The 61 Canadiens—hopefuls were "told by coach Dick Irvin that "every position is open."

They took things pretty easy in the first workout, although Les Hickey from Ottawa Senators and Phil Maloney from Shawinigan Falls, Que., managed to show up well. Reardon picked up a cut lip and Bouchard a cut over his right eye.

RANGERS REPORT

Two newcomers and 16 veterans reported to manager Frank Boucher at the Rangers' Lake Placid camp. The newcomers were centre Buddy O'Connor and defenceman Frank Eddolls from Canadiens, for whom Boucher swapped Joe Bell and Hal Laycoe in an off-season attempt to lift the New Yorkers off the doormat.

The high-scoring Bentley brothers, Max and Doug, and George Gee were the only absentees from Chicago's opening session. Three of the Black Hawks—Bill Gadsby, Emil (The Cat) Francis and Ralph Natanson—were so anxious to get going they reported to the Regina camp back on Sept. 19.

The Hawks retained 21 of some 72 amateurs from their rookie school for further tryouts with the big team and with Kansas City Pla-Mors. Coach Johnny Gottselig is reported particularly high on Jim Bedard, a junior from Moose Jaw Canucks,

Walker, Williams Cinch Major Batting Crowns

NEW YORK (AP)—Harry Walker, sold by St. Louis Cardinals to the lowly Philadelphia Phillies in early season, has clinched an amazing comeback by virtually clinching the National League batting championship.

Out of the line-up for the last week with back injuries, the centrefielder maintained his .362 average, 47 points better than runner-up Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh. If Walker goes hitless in all remaining games and Kiner should hit almost every time up, it would still be Walker for the title.

Averages, including games played Sunday showed a close race only for the runner-up spot behind Walker. Kiner at .315 had only a point on Cincinnati's Augie Galan, then came Phil Cavarretta, Chicago, .313; Pete Reiser, Brooklyn, .312; Bob Elliott of Boston, .311 and Tommy Holmes of Boston, .310.

Three more pitchers joined the 20-victory class, Warren Spahn and Johnny Sain of Boston and Larry Jansen, New York's prize rookie, whose 20.5 season record now is tops in the league. Other 20-game winners are Ewell Blackwell of Cincinnati, 22-8, and Ralph Branca of Brooklyn, 21-12. Blackwell leads the strikeout race with 194.

Johnny Mize of New York hit three homers, going into a first-place tie with Kiner at 50.

WILLIAMS IN CHICAGO (AP)—Ted Williams, Boston's crisp clouter, went on a 16-hit spree last week to hoist his percentage to .342, apparently nailing down his third American League batting crown.

Williams entered the final week of the campaign holding a 14-point margin over runner-up Barney McCosky of Philadelphia, who had 328.

Williams, who held the batting and home run crowns in 1941 and 1942, had a chance to gain his third homer title with a current total of 30, but only one behind was Cleveland's Joe Gordon.

Third among the batting lead-games was Johnny Pesky of the ers computed through Sunday's Red Sox with 326.

New York's Frank Shea had

Brace-And-Bit Holes Reveal Attempt To Enter City Bank

Victoria city police reported today that preliminary work was done in an attempt to break into the Bank of Toronto, Yates and Broad Streets, from an upstairs room in the building during the week-end.

The fact the three men believed to have been involved in the attempted crime left their tools behind, hidden among the many boxes in the janitor's store room in the centre of the west side of the building, left a slight possibility they might return to complete the job they started out to do.

Police maintained an overnight vigil on the premises last night, but no one appeared to finish the job.

Just what the robbers had in mind should they have accomplished the task of boring through the roof of the bank is a question. They were far off the mark of gaining entrance into the vault itself.

Had it not been for the fact a quantity of shavings were in evidence in the room, it is likely the three small holes made by the three-quarter inch brace and bit, two together and another three feet away on the other side of a doorway, would have been discovered immediately.

Detective-Insp. Harry Mercer, Detective-Sergeant Henry Jarvis and Detective Richards attended in response to Constable Brian Ferguson's summons at 9:25 yesterday morning to the effect there had been an attempt to enter the bank.

Search of the room, which is well filled with boxes and other stored articles, uncovered a crowbar, brace and bit and a carpenter's axe. Police consider the tools, probably the ones stolen from a tool-shed at the new B.C.E.R. site on Garbally Road during the week-end, were inadequate to finish the job.

Entry to the upper story was gained by jimmying a window on the west side of the building in the two-room storage unit. The window leads from the roof over the Manitoba Hotel.

David Hammersley, driver of the Island Taxi Company, the office of which is adjacent to the north end stairway leading to the upstairs rooms, interviewed by police stated that at about 7:05 Sunday morning he went up the stairs and noticed three men in the storeroom.

One of the men he described as about 5 ft. 10 in. in height, about 190 pounds and of medium build. Another was wearing a brown suit. He was unable to give any description of the third.

It is probable that the taxi driver's appearance may have been the cause of the departure of the three men.

Police believe the trio to have been amateurs. In fact it is rather difficult to try and figure what their ultimate intention was. One theory is that they were paving the way for a drop into the bank early Monday morning, but were frustrated when employees arrived.

Argues Right Of Judge To Dismiss Case Of Commission

Counsel H. W. Davey continued today to argue the case for the British Columbia Power Commission, which is seeking from the Appeal Court the right to litigate before the Supreme Court compensation awards made by the American Appraisal Company to the Nanaimo-Duncan Utilities for expropriated power-generating plants.

Because of technicalities in the filing of a notice of appeal, Mr. Justice Wilson of Vancouver had refused the commission the right to argue the case on its merits because it failed to give notice of appeal within the prescribed 30 days and had not appealed on the American Appraisal Company's final valuation, which was $4,000 higher than the original.

Involved in the issue is the total sum of $1,175,000 which the commission claims should be deducted from compensations awarded to the Nanaimo-Duncan Utilities Ltd., West Canadian Hydro-Electric Corporation and the Columbia Power Co. Ltd.

The outcome of the Appeal Court's decision is expected to have a widespread effect on electric power rates on Vancouver Island.

In arguing his case before the court, Mr. Davey said Mr. Justice Wilson had erred in interpreting the statutory act with regard to the filing of the appeal and claimed the act had been passed mainly to bring an end to delay.

But he added that he saw no reason why the hearing of the appeal should not be expedited, and claimed the trial judge had no right to decide whether appeals were out of time.

Mr. Davey is assisted by D. M. Gordon and H. H. Griffin. Appearing for Nanaimo-Duncan Utilities is A. Bull, K.C., assisted by Col. A. S. Gregory.

Counsel representing the West Canadian Hydro-Electric Corporation and the Columbia Power Co. Ltd., who are vitally interested in the outcome of the appeal, is also present at the hearing.

Missing Five Days

Missing since Friday, William Jarvie, 549 David Street, is anxiously being sought by members of his family. He appears to have lost his direction and is believed to be wandering about the city.

Two reports of him being seen in Pioneer Square yesterday have been discounted, but the information that he was seen wandering in Beacon Hill Park appears to have foundation, Joseph Jarvie, son of the missing man said following an interview with the person who reported seeing him.

A former 38-year resident of Nanaimo, William Jarvie is 71 years old. The public is asked to co-operate in seeing that the missing man gets home, or to contact the police or relatives, immediately they see a person answering to the following description: 5 feet 8 inches tall, medium build with hair grey at the temples, wearing a dark brown tweed suit, a blue shirt, a two-toned cream and green sweater, a felt hat and black shoes.

Meat Supplies Low

Victoria is not yet completely meatless, although supplies are hitting a new low.

A few of the downtown butchers remain open, but the selection they are offering is meagre, confined mostly to poultry, rabbit, tongues, mutton and some pork. Only one butcher was noted with any beef on display. A few stores reported they still had enough meat in their coolers to last the remainder of the week, and then they would have to depend on what poultry or the small share of meat from the two packers still operating. It has been estimated these two can supply approximately 25 to 30 per cent of Victoria's requirements.

Three religions of mankind—Judaism, Christianity and Islam—came from the Middle East.

Fire Damages Tons Of Waste Paper

A fire, believed to have been started by a spark from either a train's smokestack or from the exhaust of one of the machines operating in the yard, consumed or badly damaged several tons of waste paper which was stacked in bales in the Industrial Reserve yards of the Sidney Roofing & Paper Co. during the noon hour Monday. While the Victoria Fire Department quickly had fire under control, it took a considerable length of time and thousands of gallons of water before the smoldering mass was finally squelched.

Russians Likely To Shun U.S. 'Little Assembly' Plan

NEW YORK (AP)—Russia and her satellites may boycott the "Little Assembly" advocated by State Secretary Marshall of the United States and thus threaten the whole future of the United Nations, a highly-placed Soviet source said today.

This source said Russia would fight the Assembly proposal all through committee and on the floor of the General Assembly on legal grounds.

TALK OF SURPRISE

If Russia loses out finally in the voting, this source said, "the United States then will get a big surprise." He said the Soviet Union undoubtedly would boycott the "Little Assembly" on the grounds that it was illegal. The "Little Assembly" would be in effect a year-around sitting of the 55 member countries at U.N. headquarters.

In a later reference to the Marshall plan for the continuous sitting of the Assembly, another source familiar with the Russian policy said the Soviet delegation considered the whole project illegal and did not believe it would be adopted.

The latest report tied in with the initial Soviet reaction to the Marshall proposal. Andrei Vishinsky, Russian deputy foreign minister, then contended that it was contrary to the U.N. charter. The Russians appeared to be laying this basis for their arguments to pave the way for refusing to attend meetings.

Such a step would follow the line taken by the Russians in the trusteeship council, which they have boycotted from the first on the grounds that all trusteeship agreements were drafted illegally.

WIDER CONSEQUENCES

The "Little Assembly" meetings undoubtedly would go ahead without the Soviet countries, but such a situation would, broadly speaking, mark the first step toward a U.N. without Russia. While Soviet absence from the trusteeship council has been minimized, persons close to the U.N. feel that a Soviet boycott of the 55 power body might have dire consequences.

It still was too early to tell how Marshall's proposal would fare in the debates and voting, or how it would finally emerge after clarification and amendments. As the plan stood tentatively, it would call for a 55-nation standing committee to remain here and watch over peace and security. This group would be empowered to summon the full Assembly into session in any emergency.

Autumn Arrives But Good Weather Stays

Mercury in the thermometer at the Dominion Meteorological Observatory on Gonzales Hill reached the 76 mark on Monday, the first day of autumn, to make it the second hottest day of the month. The warmest day was the first, Labor Day, when 79 degrees were recorded at the weather station.

Weather conditions so far this month have been good for those persons who take their summer holidays late. On an average, the maximum temperature for every day has been 66.

The first day of autumn in 1946 brought sunshine for 54 minutes and a trace of rain. This year, however, Old Sol shone for 10 hours and 12 minutes.

Prospects for the remainder of the month seem good. The temperature at noon today was recorded at 66.

A. P. 'Dad' Dunnett Dies In Hospital

Funeral services will be held at 3 in Sands Mortuary Ltd., for A. P. (Dad) Dunnett, manager of the Montrose Hotel, who passed away Monday in the Royal Jubilee Hospital. He was 66 years of age.

Mr. Dunnett was born in Hamilton, Ont., and came to Victoria 22 years ago. He was active in softball circles as a team manager and was an ardent follower of amateur and professional baseball. He was a member of the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association.

He is survived by his widow, at home; four sons and nine grandchildren, of this city; his mother, two brothers and one sister, all in eastern Canada. Interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Hanging Baskets, Tourist Attraction, Cost 24 Cents Each

Victoria's hanging baskets were outstandingly effective this year, due in part to new fertilizing methods used and also to new varieties of flowers tried. W. H. Warren, parks administrator, reported to the parks committee.

Approximately 370 baskets were put up June 6, at a cost of 24 cents per basket for the operation. The soil mixture was made of sterilized soil, sand, horticultural peat, superphosphate, sulphate of potash, ground limestone and dried blood.

Instead of fertilizing only two or three times during the season, this year they were fertilized at two-week intervals, he reported, and more careful watering was done.

Mr. Warren gave credit to H. Lindsay, nurseryman, for the construction of the baskets and to J. Unwin for their care and attention on the streets.

Sixteen new varieties of flowers were tried out in the baskets. Those which proved effective will be placed in the baskets next year, and 18 new varieties will be tried.

Dies Of Polio

Victoria's second poliomyelitis death was recorded Monday, when a 27-year-old woman from Duncan died of the disease, Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, medical health officer, reported today.

The first victim was also brought into Royal Jubilee Hospital for treatment from the Duncan district. This brings the total deaths for the province up to 10.

The polio total for the Greater Victoria area has now risen to nine with confirmation of a mild case involving a high school student.

Town Topics

Esquimalt soccer team will hold a practice at Bullen Park tonight and Thursday night, starting at 7.

A building permit has been issued to Savory's Cash Grocery to add living quarters to 1987 Fort Street at a cost of $3,000.

The Victoria and Island Publicity directors will meet at noon Thursday, following a meeting of the finance committee. Mayor Percy George was informed today.

J. F. K. English, senior municipal inspector of schools, returned to the city today after attending the convention of the Canadian Education Association in Quebec City.

No. 5 Area Signal Squadron winter training season will open with a parade at Work Point Barracks Sept. 29 at 7:45. Vacancies exist for junior officers and recruits.

Wilfred Price, 1760 Coronation Street, reported to city police at 8:30 last night that he chased two youths he believed were stealing gasoline from cars parked outside Bay Street Armory. They escaped.

A Shelbourne Street woman resident informed city police yesterday that her 13-year-old daughter was chased by a man on North Dairy Road Sunday night. While the man failed to catch up with her she suffered a fall in her flight.

Gilbert M. Eaton, a director of the T. Eaton Company, and Mr. R. J. Fry, Supervisor of City Advertising, arrived from Winnipeg today for the dinner the company is tendering the Canadian Weekly Press at the Empress Hotel, Thursday evening.

A Catherine Street resident Monday found it is not good policy to invite anyone who comes to the door into the kitchen for a meal. She did that and after the shabbily-dressed man had satisfied his hunger and departed a $25 pair of spectacles were missing.

Through the kindness of the racing association, Jack Short, and the generosity of the racing public, the sum of $306.10 was realized at the tag day held last Saturday at the races in aid of the Queen Alexandra Solarium for crippled children.

E. A. Williamson of Burrard Metals, 629 David Street, told city police Monday that 33 eye-brows—metal articles used to shield portholes on ships—of a total value of $45, were stolen recently. The order was made up for delivery and ready for a company to handle. A young boy appeared and asked if the "pick up" was ready. The parcel was handed to him. It was later learned he had no connection with the delivery outfit.

Bruises were sustained by six- and one-half-year-old Garry Shephard, 608 Toronto Street, when the tricycle he was riding was in collision with a car driven north on Government Street by Margaret Duffell, 1515 Douglas Street, at 7 last evening at the Toronto and Government intersection, city police reported. The boy was taken to hospital by his father.

Coach Lines Change Schedules As D.S.T. Ends This Week-end

Coincident with the ending of Daylight Saving Time on Sunday next, Vancouver Island Coach Lines will make a general change of main-line schedules for the fall season, it was announced today.

The Victoria-Nanaimo route will be served by five round trips daily from Victoria to up-island centres, six round trips on Sundays plus an additional trip daily from Duncan to Nanaimo and a new scheduled trip from Nanaimo to Victoria on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays.

"The Islander Limited," the popular reserved seat, non-stop coach which was extended this summer to Port Alberni, will continue in operation under the new schedule set up. "The Islander" will leave Victoria at 11 a.m., arriving in Port Alberni at 4:15 p.m., and leaving Port Alberni 11:25 a.m., arriving Victoria 4:15 p.m. Other trips leaving Victoria for Nanaimo are scheduled at 9 a.m., 1:30 p.m., 4 p.m., 6 p.m. and "The Sunday Nitter" at 10 p.m.

MAKE QUICK TIME

Connections are made at Nanaimo with schedules to Port Alberni and Courtenay and Campbell River. These connections will enable passengers to make the quickest possible time between all island centres.

Apart from the fast "Islander" connection, passengers for up-island points can leave Victoria at 6 p.m. daily and be in Port Alberni or Courtenay shortly after midnight. They can leave Campbell River at 9 in the morning and arrive in Victoria at 5:15 p.m. daily. Connections from Courtenay include a new trip, leaving that island centre at 2:55 p.m. and arriving in Victoria at 9:15 p.m. daily, in addition to the regular schedule from Courtenay at 5:15 p.m., arriving in Victoria at midnight.

The additional trips provided Saanich, Port Alberni, Courtenay and Nanaimo will leave Wednesday evening to attend the annual meeting of the municipal and public works division of the B.C. Engineering Society at Vancouver Hotel: Cyril Jones, Ralph Davis, H. D. Dawson, E. Fulcher, L. Adamson, S. T. Alexander, J. Larsen, A. P. Leynard and A. S. G. Musgrave, secretary-treasurer.

B.C. Gasoline Sales Gain During July

British Columbia consumed 1,739,876 gallons more gasoline during July of this year than July, 1946, a monthly report on gasoline sales made by the Coal and Petroleum Control Board showed today.

Total consumption during the month was 11,837,072 gallons. This represented an increase of 1,251,072 gallons over the June total of this year.

In Victoria gasoline sales to resellers were up by 27,140 gallons or 3.83 per cent over the July, 1946, total.

A gain of 16.77 per cent in the sales to resellers in July of this year over the July, 1946, total was noted for Vancouver and district, while for the remainder of the province an increase of 21.76 per cent was reported. The increase for the whole province in sales to resellers was 18.73 per cent.

Throughout the province sales to commercial establishments rose by 424,232 gallons in July of this year over the July, 1946, total, while marine sales gained by 90,234 gallons. A decrease of 4,003 gallons was recorded in July aviation gasoline sales from the previous July.

Comparison of July sales for 1947 and 1946 with last year's figures in brackets is given as follows for the principle centres of Vancouver Island: Nanaimo, 420,002 (310,278); Port Alberni, 125,024 (75,711); Courtenay, 112,317 (95,545); Alert Bay, 24,624 (21,986).

Plane Takes Off, Flies Atlantic, Lands, Without Hand On Controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — The push-button flight of a United States Air Force C-54 across the North Atlantic may point the way to railroad regularity for airlines and the elimination of human error in the cockpit.

The four-engine Skymaster, known as "The Big Push," flew 2,400 miles from Stephenville, Nfld., to the Brize Norton airport in England Monday without a hand on the controls after the starting button had been touched.

A crew of nine rode along "just in case," and there were five passengers, including some British observers.

While the venture brought immediate speculation of push-button atomic warfare, the U.S. Air Force regards it only as part of an extensive study in the problems of all-weather flying.

"The Big Push" has made a number of shorter flights under circumstances similar to the Atlantic crossing and the air force hopes to develop a method which will permit the pilot to serve only as a monitor in bad weather, reducing if not actually eliminating the human element so often blamed for crashes.

Slight Earthquake Recorded Here

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A small earthquake, either near the Queen Charlotte Islands off British Columbia or in Mexico, was recorded Sunday on the University of California seismograph at 6:17.52 p.m., P.S.T.

Dr. K. O. Wright of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory on Little Saanich Mountain said today that the seismograph there had recorded a slight indication of a very small earthquake at some distant point Sunday evening.

He said it was most unlikely the earthquake had centred in the vicinity of Queen Charlotte Islands, as was believed by officials at the University of California.

"If the quake had been as close as the Queen Charlotte Islands there would have been a much clearer indication recorded here," he said.

C.N.R. Revenues Up

MacKinnon Urges South Africa Increase Exports To Canada

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Canadian Trade Minister MacKinnon said today that South Africa had moved up to become Canada's third largest customer in world trade and urged South African traders to get busy and send more exports to Canada.

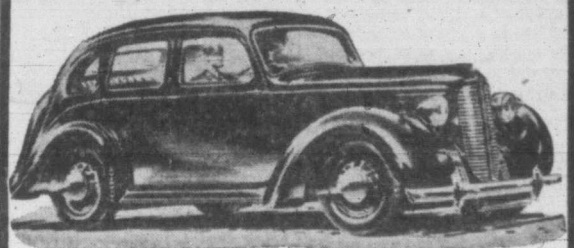

Touring South Africa with a Canadian trade delegation, the minister told a joint meeting of the Chambers of Commerce and Industries here that during the first six months of this year South Africa purchased Canadian goods to the value of $40,157,000, compared with $25,753,000 in the same period of 1946.

But he pointed out that in the same period South Africa's exports to Canada amounted to only $1,200,000—a considerable balance in Canada's favor.

"We in Canada firmly believe trade is a two-way street—and I hope you will not think me too strange a salesman if I emphasize the fact that Canada is anxious to buy as well as sell."

He told the businessmen an excellent opportunity would be presented to introduce South African products next year at the first International Trade Fair to be held in Toronto from May to June.

AS THE EARTH TURNS . . .

Out of the moist, brown soil come the vital needs of life. There is food for living in Canada, a surplus for export to starving countries where it is urgently needed. As an industry, farming ranks second in British Columbia. In 1939, B.C. produced food to the value of 48 million dollars. The 1946 value was 112 million dollars—a tremendous contribution to the world's health and welfare.

A participant in this thriving industry, Shanahan's supply insecticides, feed concentrates, and salt to farming needs. The progress and growth of agriculture helped to inspire the growth of Shanahan's—four-fold since 1939.

School Trustees Reject Sales Tax For Education

HARRISON HOT SPRINGS—Delegates to the 43rd annual convention of the B.C. School Trustees Association Monday rejected the proposal put forth by the Union of B.C. Municipalities last week for an education tax.

The proposed education tax would have to be implemented by the provincial government on a sales tax basis, with the purpose of taking education costs off property assessment. The municipalities suggested that in this way the government would take over all the municipal share of education costs, as well as hospital and social service costs.

One Woman's Day

By NANCY HODGES

OUR GOOD NEIGHBORS to the south are given to doing things in such a spectacular, all-out fashion that we have become accustomed to bizarre stories from across the line.

When a Mrs. Mattie Payne Blanke, of Los Angeles, was seriously injured after her car, which she was driving at the time, hit an embankment and turned over.

While her companion in the car lost his hat—together with the top of his head!

Queer Companion

WHEN THE POLICE patrol arrived on the scene of the crash they were amazed to find a life-sized dummy, dressed in full colonel's uniform, beside the unconscious woman.

Its presence in the car mystified them, until they got in touch with Mrs. Blanke's home in California.

And, from their investigations, it transpired that the dummy was Colonel Potter-Bee, her "protector."

London Market

LONDON (Reuters)—Dealing was quiet today on the London stock exchange, with little interest in any section except oils which rallied after a dull start but finished below the day's top.

Grain

WINNIPEG (CP)—Rye futures prices scored modest gains on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today on broad and active trading which saw good export and shipping demands coming into the market.

CHICAGO (AP)—Demand for wheat was good at the Board of Trade today and prices were up sharply on reports among traders that the cabinet food committee had agreed on export shipments of between 450,000 and 500,000 bushels of all grains for the season.

Corn, however, after an upswing at the opening ran into selling pressure, due to heavy country offerings, placed around 500,000 bushels, and at times was below the previous close.
